Re: Internal Review AIE request 02-20

Dear Mr Logue

I refer to your e-mail of 4 November 2020.

Terms of Use

I note that you do not accept the terms on which NSAI permit you to view the Records at NSAI Head Office.

NSAI is not in a position to offer you examination facilities in respect of the Records otherwise than in accordance with those terms, which we consider are compliant with the AIE Regulations and are necessary to protect the intellectual property of third parties.

Charges

Copies of the Records will not be made available on the basis of a copying charge of €0.04 per page. As explained in previous correspondence and as published on the NSAI website under “Access to Information on the Environment – AIE Requests”, where a request for access to information refers to NSAI publications (as is the case here), the requester will be directed to where these publications are available for purchase on the NSAI webstore, and the applicable charges will apply. The fees charged for purchasing copies of the Records are compliant with the AIE Regulations, and are a result of the fact that the Records contain the intellectual property of third parties.

Conclusion

In relation to the last paragraph of your letter, please note in situ examination is not being “refused” by NSAI. It is being granted and facilitated on lawful terms.

However, we understand from your correspondence that you do not intend to travel tomorrow to NSAI Head Office to view the Records in the circumstances as outlined above, and we note your position.

Yours sincerely,

Justin Tallon
Manager – Standards Publication and Support
