ABATEMENT AND REVIVAL.

	Page
Where a child, a passenger on a steamship, died, as was alleged, on account of negligence of the officers, the cause of action arose on contract, and survived to the administrator	761
An objection of lis pendens can be sustained only where the two suits are of the same character, and where plaintiff in both suits is the same	374
A suit will not be abated because of the pendency of another suit for the same cause where the other suit was dismissed after the plea in abatement was filed	415
ACTION.
Plaintiff cannot split up various promises in one contract, and sue upon them separately	634

ADMIRALTY.

See, also, "Pleading in Admiralty;" "Practice in Admiralty."

Jurisdiction.

A court of admiralty may execute the decree of another court of admiralty	369
Replevin or attachment in a state court against property does not affect jurisdiction of admiralty to proceed in rem against such property	374
In salvage cases the court of admiralty may proceed in personam as well as in rem	369
Courts of admiralty of the United States may apply the rule of the general maritime law in regard to the liability of owners of foreign vessels for collisions on the high seas	676
The district court of the United States may enjoin a suit against a ship and shipowners who have sought the benefit of the rule of maritime law limiting their liability	676
Federal courts, in the exercise of admiralty and maritime jurisdiction, are governed by legislation of congress	680
Congress, by conferring admiralty and maritime jurisdiction on federal courts, has, by implication, adopted the maritime law	680
An information in rem on the admiralty side of the district court for forfeiture under the impost laws is proper	930

	Page
Where a court of admiralty in a proceeding in rem has jurisdiction over the thing, it is immaterial to whom it belongs	974
A contract of affreightment between two ports of the same state is within admiralty jurisdiction where the course of the vessel is in part on the high seas	109
A suit in admiralty may be brought in the name of the assignee of a chose in action	1133
The district court of Ohio has admiralty jurisdiction over the Ohio, as a navigable river	528
Steam ferryboats used between two cities in different states are subject to admiralty jurisdiction, as comprising commerce among the states	528
Admiralty has jurisdiction of a suit for services of a tug in hauling off a vessel aground	832
The district courts and courts of admiralty may issue attachment against the property of foreign corporations found within their local jurisdiction	974
The admiralty has jurisdiction over charter parties for foreign voyages, and will enforce the lien thereof	374
—Rights founded on state laws.
It seems that no enactment by a state legislature can be the foundation of any right or remedy in admiralty	1179
The Wisconsin statute for the collection of claims against domestic vessels confers no lien, and therefore the district court of the United State in admiralty has no jurisdiction in rem against such vessel at the suit of a domestic creditor	338
A vessel seized under a state law is from that time under the exclusive control of the state court	338
—Persons.
A shipwright cannot sue in admiralty for wages for building ship to navigate high seas	1056
Services of a stevedore are not maritime, and are therefore not within the jurisdiction of admiralty	702
—Torts.
A suit in admiralty in personam will lie against the owner of a ship in favor of a shipper who paid salvage to wreckers with whom the master had fraudulently concerted to strand his vessel	674
Admiralty has jurisdiction of a libel by the owners of a vessel for collusive spoliation of it, when wrecked under an agreement between the master and a salvor	669
Admiralty has jurisdiction in action by the wife of a passenger to recover damages for the death of her husband, caused by negligence of the officers of the vessel	511

	Page
The admiralty has jurisdiction of personal torts to a passenger on the high seas, committed by the master of the ship, and it is immaterial whether such torts be by direct force or consequential injuries	413
AFFREIGHTMENT.
See, also, "Admiralty;" "Charter-Party;" "Shipping."
Where master ascertains that cargo specified in charter party cannot be obtained, he may sail immediately, and recover "empty for full."	948
It is the duty of the master to carry cotton under deck, in the absence of any contract, consent, or custom to the contrary.	10531208
Consignees who made advances on goods shipped may, on delivery of the goods, sue the shipowners for damages to the goods, though the bill of lading was not signed by the master	1053
A ship is hypothecated to the shipper for any damages sustained by the insufficiency of the vessel, or the fault of the master or crew	242
ALIENS.
An alien enemy may sue and be sued in the enemy's country	1154
APPEAL.
The circuit court on appeal from the district court is cautious in admitting new matters of defense or allegation, where the facts were known at the hearing in the district court	1188
Appeal and writs of error at common law considered; and Act 1807 and Act April 17, § 50, construed	924
In a suit by an assignee in bankruptcy against a person claiming adverse interest no appeal lies but the final decree from the interlocutory decree of the district court	880
A finding of fact by the district court will not be reversed unless clearly erroneous	844
An appeal does not lie from an interlocutory judgment dissolving an injunction	924
Where defendant takes an unauthorized appeal and gives a bond, plaintiff may maintain an action thereon	523
Where an assignee proceeded by petition to recover certain property as assets of the bankrupt, and the respondent answered without objection, the circuit court, on review, will not consider whether a more formal suit would have been proper	844
APPEARANCE.
The voluntary appearance of defendant in a suit commenced by foreign attachment cures the defect of jurisdiction	642
The giving of a bond by a nonresident for the release of property seized under foreign attachment from a United States court is not a voluntary appearance.	642
A voluntary appearance after the revival of a suit is a waiver of process	154

APPRENTICE.
Under Act Md. 1793, an indenture made by one justice of the peace under the seventh section of the act will be enforced, though there were many objections to the form of the indenture	507
ARMY AND NAVY.
Under Act Cong. Feb. 13, 1862, the oath of a military recruit is conclusive as to his age	1054
Where oath was taken before military officer, it will be presumed that services of a civil magistrate could not be obtained	1054
ARREST.
The insolvent law of Massachusetts, which prohibits imprisonment in certain cases, is not a law for abolishing imprisonment for debt, or a law for allowing it, within Act Cong. Feb. 28, 1839, and therefore does not affect process out of the federal court	286
ASSIGNMENT.
A creditor of an insolvent, believing him to be such, can assign his demand to a debtor of the insolvent whose debt is not yet payable	752
A decree, though not assignable at law, is transferable for valuable consideration in equity	1120
A check given by a railroad conductor for "one continuous passage" to a certain point on taking up a ticket which, by its terms, was not transferable, is also not transferable	1168
To enable a person, by assignment of a bond, to vest a legal title in the assignee, it must appear that he has the right to make the assignment	908
ASSIGNMENT FOR BENEFIT OF CREDITORS.
Where an assignment was set aside on petition of the assignee in bankruptcy, it transfers the title of the assignee to the assignee in bankruptcy as of the day of the filing of the petition; and the general assignee is not entitled to any expenses incurred by virtue of such transfer, but is entitled to expenses incurred in making sales of the property under orders of the court	898
An assignor may, by bill in equity against the assignee and the only unpaid creditor, compel an accounting of the assignee	111
An assignment valid by the law of the state where it is made, though void if made in another state, conveys property in such other state	271
ATTACHMENT.
A positive averment, in the words of the statute, that "plaintiff's debt was fraudulently contracted," is sufficient, under Daws Minn. 1867, c. 66, § 1	580
A foreign attachment for breach of stipulation in a charter party cannot be sustained where the amount of plaintiff's damages cannot, with propriety, be averred or sworn to	936

	Page
It is no objection to a foreign attachment that plaintiff has sued out an attachment in another state on the same cause of action	936
Quaere, whether a foreign attachment could be sustained where plaintiff has sued out an attachment in another state for the same cause, and defendant had given bail therein	936
Rights under an attachment depend on the state of the property when the attachment was levied	942
An attachment under mesne process is not, in strict sense of law, a lien on the property attached	539
BAIL.
The bail of an insolvent discharged under the law of Maryland will be exonerated	809
Affidavit that account "is just and true as stated, and no part thereof has been paid," is sufficient to hold defendant to bail	952
An amendment conforming the declaration to the cause of action upon which the bail was given will not authorize the discharge of the bail	159
BAILMENT.
Where defendant had sold complainant a bill of exchange, and kept it as security for its price, and the drawers became bankrupt, and defendant failed to recover the dividends on the draft, he was liable for any loss resulting	6221209
BANKRUPTCY.
Operation and effect of bankruptcy laws and proceedings.
Foreclosure of a mortgage on bankrupt's estate is not within summary jurisdiction of district court, under section 1 of the bankrupt act	259
One who prepares for market and sells lumber growing on his own ground is a manufacturer, within the meaning of bankrupt law	447
A bankruptcy court has jurisdiction to restrain the prosecution of the bill of a depositor to wind up a bank, though begun prior to the petition in bankruptcy	738
An attorney cannot act for a creditor at a meeting unless authorized by letter of attorney properly acknowledged.	654
A third meeting of creditors should not be called, except for cause shown.	850
Register.
A register, under general order No. 30 of the supreme court, is entitled to no fees except such as are provided by such order	192
The register can order an assignee to furnish him with all necessary information as to funds in his hands	850
A register properly refused to audit the accounts of the assignee filed at a second meeting, where no notice of such auditing had been given to the creditors	852
Countersigning checks by the register is a judicial duty	853

	Page
Where an examination of a bankrupt is adjourned at the instance of the creditors, the register is not entitled to his per diem for that day	938
A register's discretion in determining when and what meetings of the creditors shall be held will not ordinarily be interfered with by the district court	541
A register has power to adjourn a meeting of its creditors when, in his judgment, the interest of the whole body of creditors, or of sound policy, requires it	541
Acts of bankruptcy.
Where a merchant fails to pay, for 14 days, commercial paper given before, but falling due after, he became engaged in business, he can be adjudged a bankrupt	193
The allegation of suspension of payment of commercial paper on a certain day, and that payment had been demanded at different times thereon, is equivalent to an allegation of demand on that day	502
Failure of an accommodation indorser to pay the note in 14 days after his liability has been duly fixed is an act of bankruptcy, if there is no defense, and if he is a manufacturer	447
Commercial paper mentioned in section 33 of the bankrupt law includes all negotiable paper	447
A negotiable note is not the "commercial paper" of an accommodation indorser thereof, within the meaning of section 39 of the bankrupt act of 1867	1011
An assignment for benefit of creditors, made with intent to defeat and delay the operation of the bankrupt law, is complete on the day of its execution, and the intent existing at that time determines its character	410
An assignment for benefit of creditors will be deemed to have been made with intent to delay the operation of the bankrupt law, where the exercise of the powers granted by it would have that effect	410
The meaning of the word "future," in section 2 of the bankrupt law, is future with reference to the day on which the act was to take effect	398
Adjudication.
An adjudication entered on the 27th day of June, 1874, will be set aside on motion, if the act passed on that day was not complied with	149
Commencement of proceedings—Voluntary bankruptcy.
One who holds a debt in a fiduciary capacity is not entitled to the benefit of the bankrupt act, though he is also indebted individually	338
A provisional warrant in voluntary proceedings, on proof by affidavit of its necessity, will not be vacated, where such facts are not disproved	855
A voluntary petition will be received, notwithstanding a petition for a compulsory decree has been filed, and an order of notice of cause entered—Involuntary bankruptcy.	8

	Page
One who buys paintings from time to time, and sells them at auction, is not a merchant, within the bankrupt act	470
Where a voluntary petition in bankruptcy omits the names of some members of the firm which it is asked shall be declared bankrupt, proceedings against the nonjoining partners cannot be made by a creditor	735
Where debtor in involuntary bankruptcy proceedings declines to defend in form, but is personally present, the court will hear suggestions from any creditor that an insufficient number of persons had joined in the petition	1057
Bankrupt will be required to make statement in writing under oath, where he is relied on to prove insufficient number of petitioning creditors as suggested by a creditor	1057
Debtor who does not demand jury on re turn day after continuance cannot afterwards demand jury	1057
Court, in determining whether sufficient number of creditors have joined in petition, will not consider names of preferred creditors	1057
Assignee-Appointment and removal.
A person residing out of the district, or having an interest adverse to the creditors generally, is disqualified to act as assignee	810
Where, after an assignee has been appointed, a creditor has been added to the schedules, no new choice of assignee is necessary	172
A general creditor, or the attorney of one, is not necessarily disqualified to act as assignee	810
—Powers and duties.
The repeal of the bankrupt act does not prevent the assignee from suing to reduce the property of the bankrupt to possession	134
The accounts of the assignee must be presented at the second meeting of the creditors, and audited by the register	838
The assignee may sue in a state court to recover money paid by the bankrupt in violation of section 39 of the bankrupt act	357
A judgment in a state court against an assignee in bankruptcy, directing payment out of the assets in the assignee's hands, does not, alone, furnish legal grounds to the district court, as a court of bankruptcy, for directing payment by the assignee	358
Creditors need not object to the assignee's account, except at the meeting called in the twenty-eight section of the act	8531210
Property of bankrupt.
Property held in trust by a bankrupt passes into the control of the assignee until another trustee is appointed	123
Lands held for a bankrupt upon a trust resulting upon the payment of the price by him before the bankrupt act was passed belonged to the assignee	123

	Page
Lands conveyed to a third person by the bankrupt in a secret trust to defraud his creditors passed to the assignee, though conveyed before bankrupt act	134
Where a partner sued for a dissolution of the firm, and bankruptcy proceedings were begun against the firm, the amount claimed by the partner on dissolution would be his individual property, which would pass to the assignee for the payment of his separate debts	835
The property of the bankrupt passes to the assignee, and is distributable among his creditors, whether he obtains a certificate of discharge or not —Exemptions.	539
Exemption in favor of a bankrupt is not effected by the fact that his wife owns the household and kitchen furniture.	1123
Under section 14 of the bankrupt act, the assignee, in addition to necessary household and kitchen furniture, can exempt, in favor of the bankrupt, “such other articles and necessaries” as he may think right, the whole exemption not to exceed $500	1123
The bankrupt, in addition to the exemption allowed by bankrupt act, is entitled to exemption under the law of his domicile.	1123
The assignee must select the property exempted under the bankrupt law, and should refuse to set apart articles of mere luxury	1123
One need not have either wife or child, to constitute a head of a family —Liens.	1123
A consignor whose property was sold he-fore the bankruptcy of the consignee, and the proceeds mingled with the general assets, has no lien	1112
A bailee who agrees with the bailor that he will hold the goods for a certain time, and afterwards sell, and pay his claim against the bailor, has a right to sell after such time, though the bailor had in the meanwhile become bankrupt	325
A deposit of goods under a contract which will result in a debt brings the goods within the mutual credit laws of the bank-runt act, so that the bailee can set off his debt against the value of the goods	325
A creditor's bill to subject defendant's equities to plaintiffs judgment creates a lien, where process was served before a petition was filed to declare defendant a bankrupt	978
Where a lien has been acquired before petition in bankruptcy was filed, enforcement of such lien in state court will not be enjoined, unless fraud is charged	978
Bailee of an insolvent's goods, who, before a petition in bankruptcy was filed, employed him to assist in the management of the goods, is entitled to a credit for the amount paid therefor, as against the assignee in bankruptcy —Sale.	303

Where a person intends to bid at a cash sale of a bankrupt's estate, he may agree to sell on credit to another, when he has no notice that such person has an intent to bid at the sale	733
A sale for a bankrupt's estate to the solicitor of the assignee will be set aside Proof of debts.	733
Where a creditor with security makes proof of claim without mentioning it, through ignorance of the law, he will be allowed to withdraw his proof, and be restored to his rights	850
When written objections to a proof are filed with a register, and testimony is taken, he must, if requested, certify the same to the district judge for decision	851
Rev. St. § 5084, must be construed in connection with the clause of section 5021 prohibiting certain creditors from proving their debts	939
Illegally preferred creditor may prove his debt where the property is surrendered to the assignee without suit	939
A speculative option commonly called a "put," is a wagering transaction, and is not a debt provable in bankruptcy	443
Where, in eminent domain proceedings, a tenant has been paid on a basis of his obligation to pay rent, the landlord can prove up a claim for rent on the bankruptcy of the tenant	811
Creditor whose debt was created by fraud of bankrupt does not, by proving claim and taking a dividend, waive his right to sue for the balance	1047
An order expunging a claim against the bankrupt is not such an adjudication thereof as to prevent the creditor from pleading it as a set-off in an action by the assignee	303
A deposition filed by a creditor, setting forth a claim for breach of contract, but not asking for assessment of the alleged damages, is not due proof of the debt.	1086
Semble, that proof of a debt before a register, and the rejection thereof by the district court and appeal to circuit court, are conditions precedent to creditor's right to sue assignee, but are not an adjudication for or against a claim	303
On the hearing of a motion to expunge a proof, the moving party is entitled to open and close	3
Where the testimony of the bankrupt is desired on a motion to expunge proof, he should be summoned as a witness.	3
The answer to a petition to expunge a proof cannot be used as evidence	3
Papers annexed to an answer to a petition to expunge a proof must be proved in the usual manner, to be used as evidence	3
Payment of debts.
A judgment in favor of the people of the state of New York against a surety on a bail bond given for the appearance of a person indicted for a crime is a debt to the state, and is entitled to priority under the bankrupt law	422

	Page
Creditors receiving larger per cent, of their debt than the apparent assets justify must be careful that they do not obtain a preference	925
Examination of bankrupt.
Failure of a bankrupt to attend on the adjourned day of his examination cannot be punished as contempt	103
On an examination in bankruptcy, questions are proper which elicit an answer tending to show an interest of the bankrupt in property at the time petition was filed	172
Where the wife of a member of a bankrupt firm claims certain estate standing in her name, the bankrupt may be examined as to what property the wife owns, and the amount of money that she had at any time	848
A bankrupt who is in custody may be produced in court on habeas corpus whenever necessary for further proceedings in bankruptcy before the court or a commissioner	539
Costs-Pees-Disbursements.
On approval of the assignee, the counsel of a bankrupt may be paid from the estate for services in resisting the petition and settling conflicting claims	8461211
The necessary expenses and disbursements of the United States marshal and assignee must be taxed by the register	101
Review
Order of district court in exercise of summary jurisdiction in bankruptcy (Bankr. Act 1 867, § 1), cannot be reviewed by appeal to the circuit court under section 8	259
Order of district court in exercise of summary jurisdiction in bankruptcy is reviewable by petition to the circuit court setting forth proceedings in district court, and asking a review and reversal or modification of the order complained of, and a mere notice of appeal is not "proper process" for invoking a review	259
Semble, that the review of an order of the district court in exercise of its summary jurisdiction may be applied for at any time before the order is executed	259
A summary proceeding by order to show cause, asking the assignee to be directed to pay a mortgage debt out of the estate, is not a suit, within section 8 of the bankruptcy act, relating to appeals	259
The appeal provided for by section 8 of the bankruptcy act can be taken only from a final order	259
Discharge
An involuntary bankrupt may be discharged, unless guilty of some act specified in Act 1867, § 29	840

	Page
An assignment for the benefit of creditors by debtors after the passage of the bankrupt law, or before it took effect, will not prevent their discharge under the act	398
A voluntary bankrupt, whose assets are less than 30 per cent, of the claims proved, and who has not obtained the consent of one-fourth of the creditors in number and one-third in value, is not entitled to discharge under the bankrupt act, as amended June 22, 1874	372
A baker who buys flour, which he makes into bread and sells to daily customers, is a tradesman (Bankr. Act 1867, § 29), and is not entitled to discharge unless he has kept proper books of account	1154
A discharge will be refused where the confession of judgment was voluntarily made by the bankrupt, in order to compel a creditor to reduce his rent, and, if not, to defeat his debt	517
A discharge may be granted on an application made more than a year after adjudication	2
A discharge will be granted where the creditors take no steps to defeat the same on the grounds set forth under Bev. St. U. S. §5110	855
The fact that a debt was created by fraud is not a ground for withholding a discharge, but such debt is excepted from the operation of the discharge	942
One who was imprisoned under an execution before a petition to declare him a bankrupt was filed is not entitled to a release as soon as he is declared a bankrupt, but he is entitled to be released when he has obtained a certificate of discharge in bankruptcy	539
Quaere whether a discharge in bankruptcy relates back to the commencement of the proceeding, and renders an intermediate imprisonment for debt unlawful	539
Prohibited or fraudulent transfers
The giving of security on a loan is not an illegal preference	881
A creditor who enters judgment by confession, and levies execution when he has cause to believe that the debtor is insolvent, obtains an illegal preference	881
A creditor releasing the goods of a debtor from an execution, and taking other assets, when the debtor is insolvent, obtains illegal preference	881
Bankruptcy act, before the amendment of June 22, 1874, did not require the creditor to know that reasonable cause existed for believing the debtor insolvent.	939
The existence of a financial crisis constitutes reasonable cause to believe men otherwise in doubtful circumstances to be insolvent	939
To set aside a preference made by an insolvent debtor, it must appear that the creditor receiving it had reasonable cause to believe that a fraud on the bankrupt act was intended	281

	Page
A conveyance by an insolvent debtor to his creditor, of property on which the creditor had a lien exceeding the value of the property, does not violate section 35 of the bankrupt law	307
A judgment against an insolvent, obtained without fraud or collusion, is not void under the bankrupt law	307
Notice to a creditor of an act of bankruptcy does not affect a transfer to him, except as tending to show that he had reason to believe the transfer was in fraud of the bankrupt law	307
A judgment by confession against an insolvent is a lien created with the implied consent of the debtor, and is in fact a transfer by him to the creditor, and is void under section 35 of the bankrupt law	307
A transfer of property by an insolvent which necessarily prefers one creditor is presumed to have been made for the purpose of such preference	307
Design to give a preference must be established as a fact	470
A pledge of part of the assets of a national bank to secure a loan made by one who knows its embarrassed condition is not a preference	262
The preference of creditors prohibited by the bankrupt law is a preference to secure or pay a pre-existing debt	262
—Proceedings to recover property.
Where the property affected by a lien has passed to the assignee, summary proceedings in the bankruptcy court to restrain the enforcement of the lien are proper	841
A district court has power to prohibit any proceeding in a state court by a creditor to enforce a lien on the property of a bankrupt.	841
Where property in possession of an assignee as part of the estate is taken in replevin issued by a state court in a proceeding to which he is not a party, the district court will see that his possession is not forcibly displaced	844
An assignee is entitled to a judgment for the value of property seized on execution within four months before the petition by a creditor knowing of the insolvency	654
Arrangement with creditors
Attachments are not dissolved by the acceptance and recording of a resolution of compromise	819
Mere delay, without laches, in obtaining requisite number of signatures to a composition, is not ground for refusing to record it	318
Resolution proposing composition of 70 cents, to be paid within 30 days, on condition that all the bankrupt's property be surrendered and all pending suits discontinued, is proper	318

BANKS AND BANKING.

	Page
The corporate name of the bank incorporated by Act Cong. March 3, 1817, § 23, is “The Central Bank of Georgetown and Washington,” and not “The President and Directors of” said bank	3571212
A bank located in Columbus, Ohio, having power by its charter to deal in bills of exchange generally could deal in exchange through an agent in another city.	739
Where moneyed capital was taxed $1.05, but a reduction of indebtedness was allowed before the assessment, a similar tax, without a deduction, on national banks, was invalid	755
An ordinance of a city imposing a tax nominally on all banks, but from payment of which the state banks had been held exempt, was invalid	755
Where different rates of taxation are imposed on different classes of moneyed capital, the rates of taxation on national bank shares should not exceed the rate imposed upon shares in state banks	755
The word “insolvency,” as used in the currency act of 1864. is synonymous with the same word as used in the bankrupt act, and it is only necessary that insolvency should be in contemplation by the bank making transfers of its assets	251
Where a bank accepts stock and notes for which it was given as security, as collateral for a loan, it may sell the stock after the notes become due	11
An agreement by a national bank to pledge a portion of its assets to secure loan made to it by a firm is not affected by the fact that the president of the bank was a member of the firm.	262
A national bank cannot repudiate an unauthorized contract, and at the same time retain the benefit thereof	262
The receiver of an insolvent national bank has no greater right to enforce collection of assets than the bank itself would have had	262
Where a sufficient fund has been realized from the assets of a national bank, which has been declared in default, to pay all claims against it, and leave a surplus, interest on the claims will be allowed during the period of administration, before appropriating the surplus to the stockholders	537
Interest is recoverable on the balance due a depositor in a national bank which has been declared in default by the comptroller of the currency, though he made no formal demand of payment	537
Assumpsit by the holder of a claim against a national bank, which had been declared in default, to recover interest during the period of administration, will not lie against the receiver or against the comptroller of the currency, hut will lie against the bank	537
BILL OF LADING.
A limitation as to the amount of damages is ineffective against a loss arising from negligence	781

	Page
Vessel held liable for destruction of cargo by fire caused by a collision through the negligence of the vessel	780
Where the owner of a vessel, notwithstanding the charter party, makes special contracts through the master in respect to freight, the bills of lading govern the rights of the parties	76
BILLS, NOTES, AND CHECKS.
In an action on a note, where the plea is nonassumpsit, the defendant cannot show damages by a breach of the contract on which the note was given	544
A note not payable to plaintiff or order, as charged in the declaration, is inadmissible	159
An assignment of a note must be proved, to entitle the assignee to judgment	865
A declaration on a bill of exchange is sufficient where it avers that plaintiffs are the holders of a certain bill drawn by defendant's agent, and accepted by him, pursuant to an agreement between the parties; that the bill was drawn on a sufficient consideration; that it was duly accepted by defendant, and was protested for nonpayment	359
Where a note is payable two years after date, on demand, in an action against the maker it is not necessary to prove special demand	632
In an action by an indorsee against a maker, where the maker has no defense against the payee, he cannot claim the indorsee should recover only so much as is due him from the payee	632
In an action on a note, interest need not be demanded in the declaration	634
A plea to an action on a note, which avers that the goods for which it is given are valueless, is not good	662
Where a bill was accepted by one of a firm without the knowledge of the partners, nor in the course of business, recovery can be had thereon under a count stating it was drawn on "B. & Co.," and accepted by B. by writing the name of "B. & Co."	744
It is no defense to a bank note taken in the usual course of business that it was stolen from the rightful owner	746
Where one of the firm accepts a bill of exchange for accommodation, without the knowledge of his partners, the drawer has a right to sell the same, and those taking it, though with knowledge, were bona fide holders	744
Letter written within reasonable time before or after date of bill of exchange, describing it, and promising to accept it, is a virtual acceptance	274
Indorsement on a bill of exchange, subsequent to that of the payee, made for the purpose of transmitting, and collecting the bill, may be stricken out at the trial in an action by an indorsee	274
An action on a bill of exchange may be brought in the name of the owner, without regard to indorsements made for the purpose of transmitting and collecting the bill, though for value	274

	Page
Qualified acceptance of bill of exchange to amount of proceeds of certain property against which it was drawn, and subsequent application of such proceeds, is a satisfaction only pro tanto	274
A letter giving authority to draw bill of exchange at any time, but not referring to the particular bills to be drawn, is a promise to accept, for breach of which one who takes bill on credit thereof may sue	274
Where the notary does not find the indorser at home, and leaves a written notice with his family, it is sufficient	1
The bankruptcy of a mutual insurance company is no defense to an action by the assignee of a note given for the premium on a policy of insurance	60
BOTTOMRY AND RESPONDENTIA.
Where the consignee of a vessel employs her without accounting for her earnings, he cannot enforce bonds on the vessel for wages, insurance, and the like	888
A master has no authority to bottomry the ship, where he does not communicate with the owner, though he is able to do so	7031213
A bottomry bond executed by the master of a ship is invalid as to items for advances made without an agreement or reasonable expectation that they were to be secured by bottomry	703
A captain cannot bind his owners and their vessel for the payment of mariners' wages for three months after their discharge	13
Where a vessel is liable on a bottomry bond, and the question whether it belonged to the government was doubtful, the question will not be disposed of before appearance, and on motion	231
A bottomry bond, made for a larger sum than is due, to defraud underwriters, is void	150
BOUNDARIES.
Courses and distances are controlled by fixed monuments	1003
CARRIERS.
No person is a common carrier who is not a carrier for hire, though the compensation need not be a fixed sum	719
Where the master of a vessel, who had taken passage on a steamer to rejoin his vessel, was carried past the place for which he had bought his ticket, he can recover his own personal loss, and damages for the detention of his vessel	1
Failure of a vessel to arrive at the port from which a ticket of passage was purchased is not excused by the fact that the vessel was disabled by stress of weather, and the passenger was entitled to recover the passage money paid by him	1133,1134
Until a passenger is on board the vessel, he is not subject to casualties or misfortunes occurring through stress of weather or otherwise	1133,1134

	Page
A carrier is not liable for damages to cotton in bales for moisture previous to the time of lading of which the master had no knowledge	646
Where goods are lost after receipt by the carrier, and before delivery, presumption is that it was occasioned by the carrier's neglect	646
Carriers are not liable for damage to goods resulting from the act of the owner	646
The term "merchandise," in a charter incorporating a steamboat company for the transportation of merchandise, does not apply to mere evidences of value, such as notes, bills, checks, policies of insurance, and bills of lading	719
The transportation of passengers or of merchandise by common carriers does not necessarily imply that the owners are not common carriers of bank notes or specie	719
The knowledge of the owners of a vessel that the master carried money for hire will not affect them, unless the hire was on their account, or unless the master hired himself out as their agent in that business	719
CENTENNIAL EXHIBITION.
Act Cong. Feb. 16, 1876, appropriating $1,500,000 to the Centennial Exhibition does not require repayment to the United States before stockholders of the exhibition shall be repaid their subscriptions but only requires repayment before a percentage of the profits is paid to the stockholders	352
CERTIORARI.
Certiorari cannot issue from a superior court to bring up from the county court a case for adjudication	146
CHARTER PARTY.
Charter party to furnish cargo at certain place is broken where cargo could not be obtained, though it stipulated for purchase of cargo with vessel's funds	945
Nominal damages only are recoverable for breach of charter party where libellant fails to prove actual damages, though the agreement binds the parties to a penalty for its breach	403
Estimated profits of the voyage cannot be computed as an element of damages for breach of charter party	403
CHATTEL MORTGAGES.
Foreclosure of a chattel mortgage does not affect rights of third person in the mortgaged property	300
A mortgage allowing the mortgagor to retain possession and make sales, and receive the proceeds for his own use, is void in New York	31
The assignee in bankruptcy cannot claim that the mortgage is invalid because not renewed under the statutes of New York, if valid when bankruptcy proceedings were commenced	75

CHINESE.

	Page
Under the treaty of July 28, 1868, art. 6, Chinamen can reside in the United States on the same terms as the subjects of Great Britain and France	497
CITIZEN.
An American citizen may enter the military service of a foreign government without compromising the neutrality of his own, or divesting himself of his rights of citizenship	390
Quaere, whether a native-born American citizen can expatriate himself	390
CLAIMS.
Where property was seized and sold, and the proceeds paid into the United States treasury, under the captured and abandoned property act, the question whether the property was in fact captured or abandoned is not open to litigation in the courts, but the only remedy of the person claiming to be the owner is by a proceeding for the proceeds in the court of claims	421
COLLISION.
Nature of the liability.
An erroneous maneuver under imminent peril is not chargeable as a fault	464
Fault cannot be imputed in deciding on one of two doubtful measures for avoiding a collision which carries the vessel so nearly clear as six feet	1106
A claim for damages by collision cannot be maintained against the bona fide purchaser of the vessel at mortgage sale	506
A movement by a schooner in extremis is no ground for holding her chargeable	788
Rules of navigation
A tug with a line of barges in tow, which is unable to change her course in favor of a sailing vessel, is nevertheless in fault in not making such inability known to the vessel, as required by rule 24	385
A vessel will not be pronounced in fault for adhering to a rule of navigation, unless a very clear case for departure is shown.	1015
Rule that vessel sailing free must give way to one closehauled applies to pilot boats and other vessels on bays and harbors, as well as on the high seas	10151214
A towboat leaving a landing just outside of a ferry slip and crossing the course of an incoming ferryboat is in fault in not making at once for the center of the stream, as required by the local laws	868
Vessel whose jib-boom is standing, contrary to law, is liable for collision happening wholly or in part thereby	1095
A vessel which goes about at the same time as another vessel on a parallel course, and endeavors to pass such other vessel, is an overtaking vessel	1106
Article 10 of the regulations for preventing collisions, requiring that a bell shall be sounded at least every five minutes during the fog, means that the bell must be sounded as often as once in five minutes, and as much oftener as the case shall require.	439

Between steamers
A steamtug, meeting a steamboat end on, held in fault for starboarding instead of porting	769
A vessel who sees approaching vessel stop her engine is entitled to consider that such approaching vessel intended to allow her to pass her bows, and the sudden starting of the approaching vessel's engine was a fault	328
Owner of disabled ferryboat may recover the value of her use while disabled, though her place was supplied by a spare boat kept for that purpose	329
A vessel by whose fault a collision occurs is liable for damages consequent on the stranding of the disabled vessel, resulting from its disabled condition	344
Where a ferryboat was crossing the East river, and a steam propeller was coming down, and undertook to pass the bows of the ferryboat, the propeller was liable, as she had the ferryboat on her starboard side	560
Where a propeller coming down a river attempted to cross the bow of a ferryboat crossing the same, instead of going under her stern, she is responsible for the damages	557
Where a propeller coming down a river met a ferryboat crossing on her starboard hand, and the ferryboat kept her course, the propeller would be liable for a collision caused by crossing the bow of the ferryboat	557
Where a tug signaled another to cross, and being unable to check her progress, a collision ensued, the signaling tug was in fault	519
A steamer, having placed herself in a position involving danger of collision, is responsible for the consequences	788
Sail vessels meeting
Vessel sailing free, which collides with vessel closehauled, must show that all possible care and skill were used by her, and that the collision was the fault of the other vessel, or was inevitable	1015
A vessel sailing free must get out of the way of one closehauled	285, 1018
A vessel which is entitled to keep her course has a right to expect the other to be steered clear of her	285
A vessel with the wind free, attempting, without necessity, to cross the bows of a vessel closehauled, is liable if a collision ensues	829
Where the injured vessel was in stays, the burden of proof is on the colliding vessel to show she was not in fault.	515
Steam vessels meeting sailing vessels
Steamers must give way to sailing vessels with a free wind	160
It being shown to be the custom, it was not a fault of a pilot boat to put herself in the path of a steamer, and lower her yawl to put the pilot on board of the steamer	799

	Page
In a collision in Hell Gate, between a steamer and a schooner, held , that the steamer was in fault in not waiting before turning into a narrow channel, until she knew whether the schooner was intending to turn into the channel or not	765
Where a steamer was seasonably seen, and a schooner was kept on her course, the steamer is liable for the collision, though the schooner had no lookout except her master, who was on the quarter deck	774
Where a schooner, on meeting a steamer, keeps her course, it is the duty of the steamer to avoid her	774
A sailing vessel which collides with a steamer is not in fault where she keeps her course until collision is inevitable	344
Where a schooner approaches a steamer having lights at her bow and stern, and luffs to avoid her, supposing her to be anchored, causing a collision, the schooner is in fault	463
Speed: Fogs
A steamer moving eight miles an hour in a dense fog is not going at a moderate speed	787
A steamship is liable to a sailing vessel for injuries caused by too great speed in a fog	762
Speed of vessel in a fog should be moderate	439
Lights, signals, etc
A schooner at anchor is in fault where her light is in such position that it is hidden from view by her sails	778
Where there was no darkness sufficient to prevent an approaching vessel from seeing a vessel in tow of a tug, failure of the tug to carry lights showing that she had a tow was not a fault causing the collision	796
The burden is on the pilot boat to prove that the absence of the masthead light which she should have carried did not contribute to the collision	798
A schooner at anchor is in fault for not sounding a bell and blowing a horn on hearing the horn of an approaching ship during a fog	439
Lookouts
Vessels are in mutual fault where collision is caused by failure of both to maintain a proper lookout	317
A ship which neglects to have a lookout stationed exclusively for that duty, and leaves the helm unattended, is in fault	285
Tows: Tugs
In a collision between a steamboat and a schooner in tow, held , that the steamer was in fault	763
It is the duty of a propeller towing a barge past a vessel at anchor to take great care not to go so near the anchored vessel that a sheer of the barge might cause a collision	351

	Page
A propeller which tows a barge past a vessel at anchor, passing so close as to cause a collision between the vessel and the barge, and without keeping a proper lookout astern, is in fault and solely liable.	351
Where a vessel in tow collides with another vessel when the tug saw the other vessel, and could have avoided the collision, the tug is liable for part of the damages	1095
Where an oil barge in tow of a tug sagged against the vessels at the end of a pier by force of the tide, they were not guilty of negligence	513
In the absence of instructions from the pilot in charge of a ship to the tug having it in tow, as to its course on approach of a schooner, it was the duty of the tug to navigate so as to avoid a collision	8011215
In a collision between a schooner and a ship in tow, the ship must be regarded as under steam, as she was moving by steam alone, though it was 250 yards away	801
Where a tug tows a ferryboat on fire from her slip, the burden of proof was on the tug to show that she was not in fault in towing the ferryboat against a schooner at anchor	824
It is the duty of a ship in tow to keep away from a schooner under sail, which is keeping on its course	801
Vessels moored, etc
Where a schooner breaks away from the pier, and runs into a canal boat and beaches her, and she is injured by a storm, the schooner is liable for the damages from a collision and from the subsequent storm	660
A steamboat under way, colliding with a schooner at anchor in a customary place, held presumptively in fault	778
Where a schooner moored for the winter at a pier broke adrift, and ran into a canal boat and beached her, she is liable for the damages	659
A vessel at anchor at a breakwater in a storm is in fault in not having a watch on deck, and cannot recover against a vessel for a collision	823
Where a vessel at anchor in a gale is run into by another vessel, having no person on board, the latter is liable, notwithstanding the custom in the harbor to leave vessels at anchor without any one on board	819
Particular instances
A steamer meeting a schooner closehauled held in fault for failing to keep a proper lookout, or to slacken speed	71
Where a collision is caused by the misconduct of a pilot employed by the owner not under compulsion by the statute, the vessel is liable	100
The loss of a ferryboat, which, while in a sinking condition from a collision, collides with another vessel and sinks, was not increased by the second collision, and it is immaterial whether or not the second colliding vessel was in fault	387

	Page
Evidence in collision between a steamer and schooner in the night considered, and held that those in charge of the steamer were negligent in not seeing her sooner	780
No reason being shown for the change of course of a steamer, thereby causing a collision, she was held in fault	786
Where a steamboat passes a tow without much reduction of speed, whereby the tow was damaged by the swell, the steamboat was liable	644
A steamboat meeting a tow, if she cannot pass at a safe distance, must reduce her speed to prevent injury to the tow by the swell	645
Evidence examined, and held that a collision between a steamer and a pilot boat was not due to the want of the masthead light on the pilot boat	799
Evidence in collision at a slip considered, and held that both parties are in fault	791
In a collision between a steamer and a pilot boat at sea, held the steamer was at fault, in not stopping still before she reached the pilot boat	798
The towing of a ferryboat on fire out of the slip, by a hempen hawser, which was likely to burn, was negligence on the part of the tug, and the drifting of the ferryboat against a schooner at anchor was the result of such negligence	824
Procedure.
Testimony of practical seamen, as experts, is admissible to show whether circumstances required a departure from the rules of navigation	1106
A libel must set out the facts relied on to charge the vessel with fault	464
Where the answer admits failure to have lights, the burden of proof is on the vessel to show freedom from fault	464
Opinion evidence as to the value of a vessel is admissible where she has no market price	326
Where the negligence of one of two vessels jointly liable is proven the decree may be against her alone	519
Libel caused by the joint negligence of two vessels may be maintained jointly against them	519
After a decree for libellants, and while a reference as to damages was pending, insurers who have paid the loss of the cargo may be made colibellants	791
The insurer of a cargo may be admitted as a party to settle its rights to a share of the recovery	792
A colliding vessel, which violated the law, must prove that the collision was not due to such violation;	439
First question in a suit in rem for collision is whether the vessel sued was in fault, and until that fact is established the question whether libellant was in fault does not arise	439

	Page
Where both vessels were in fault, and an apportionment of damages was decreed, and no cross libel was filed, costs will be allowed to party who recovers	767
Rule of damages
Where two steam vessels were held liable to the owners of a schooner, and the damages were apportioned between them, and one vessel was of less value than the amount of damages, the difference could not be recovered against the other vessel	771
Where both vessels are in fault, the damages will be apportioned	765
Where a steamer is liable for collision with a schooner, and two of the schooner's men jumped on board the steamer, the loss of the men, if crippling her, was chargeable to the steamer	762
Where ferryboat injured by collision was withdrawn for repairs, and its place supplied by another boat, evidence of the value of her use, based on the receipts, shows that she was valuable, though there is no evidence that she could have been chartered for any sum during the time she was laid up	326
The rule that the market value of the vessel is the criterion of her value does not apply where she has no market value	326
Owner cannot abandon vessel as being a total loss where she has been, sunk, but could be raised for small sum, compared with her value	952
Owners of injured vessel, who make repairs, may recover as part of damages the usual additional charge for use of tools, etc., and also for the services of superintendent	326
Where damages were adjudged to be divided, insurance money received by one of the steamers was not to be deducted from the share which the other was adjudged to pay	18
Demurrage may be considered in estimating damages	18
Where two steamboats were both in fault, the damages would be divided	18
After a vessel has been repaired, additional work necessary to make the vessel good will not be allowed for	519
COMMISSIONERS.
The commissioners have no power to issue attachments returnable to the circuit courts of the United States	6421216
COMPOSITION WITH CREDITORS.
Where the debtor compromises with certain of his creditors in consideration of his discharge, and gives a better security to one than to others, the composition is void	666
CONFLICT OF LAWS.
The law of the state in which is situated a railroad mortgaged to secure bonds governs as to the rate of interest, where it appears that the parties contracted	1157

Page

with reference to such law, though the bonds were made payable in a larger city in another state

CONSTITUTIONAL LAW.

Const. Mo. art. 11, § 4, exempting persons from liability for acts during the Civil War by virtue of military authority vested in them by the government, is valid 865

Act Cong. 1863, providing for the transfer of actions for personal trespass committed by virtue of military authority during the late war to the federal courts, is constitutional 865

Law declaring lawful a bridge over the Mississippi which obstructs navigation is not unconstitutional because of a treaty with France securing free navigation 1060

Law authorizing bridge over navigable river is a regulation of commerce 1060

A law dividing the railroads in the state into different classes based on their earnings, and prescribing a rate of charges for each class, is not unconstitutional 594

Power of congress to regulate commerce with foreign nations and among the several states includes the power to regulate navigation 680

CONTRACTS.

Where one party refuses to do something necessary to enable the other party to perform the contract, the latter may abandon it 466

A party who abandons a contract on the failure of the other party to perform a material part is not liable 466

Where a contract provides that the estimate of an engineer as to the amount and value of the work shall be conclusive unless objected to within 20 days, an objection as to the quality alone waives an objection as to the quantity 101

Where plaintiff agrees to build certain bridges, to be paid partly in cash and partly in stock, he was entitled to pay in cash for extra work necessary to be done 630

Where a contract covers various undertakings, and plaintiff complains of the breach of one, he waives any right as to the others 634

An action on a charter party cannot be maintained by one who is not a party thereto, though it recites that one of the parties is the agent for such person, but the covenants are with the agent who executed it in his own name, without reference to the alleged party in interest 936

COPYRIGHT.

Copyright law is intended to encourage learning, and not mere industry 999

Literary production may be copyrighted, though printed on single sheet 999

A newspaper is not a subject of copyright 999

An inchoate intended publication is not the subject of copyright, as such right extends to the book only, and not to the subject 356

	Page
Where an officer of the British navy files a declaration of intent to become a citizen, but, trouble with Canada seeming imminent, he offers his services to that province, he is not a resident, within the meaning of the copyright act of 1831	58
The work must be published within a reasonable time after filing the title page	68
No suit can be maintained for infringement without evidence of copyright in complaint	521
Where the judges of the court prepared the headnotes to their opinions, the reporter has no copyright in the volumes he edits	521
Substantial damages cannot be allowed where the matters charged have not prejudiced complainant	521

CORPORATIONS.

Quaere, whether the misnomer of a corporation must be pleaded in abatement	357
At common law the property of a foreign corporation cannot be attached to compel its appearance	974
A foreign corporation may sue in another jurisdiction	974
St. Mass. 1821, c. 28, relating to the individual liabilities of stockholders, applied, not only to debts in a strict sense, but liabilities incurred by the corporation	235
An assessment is necessary to the liability of a subscriber to stock in an incorporated company	459
An indorsement of a note by the president and cashier transfers the note to the indorsee	630
Where a corporation, in payment of a debt, takes its own stock, it has authority to sell the same	632
A creditor of a corporation cannot sue the directors thereof for gross negligence in the management of its affairs	888
The original subscribers to a corporation are bound by the alterations of a charter made with the consent of the corporation	569
Installments due by subscribers to the Chesapeake & Ohio canal may, under the Virginia statute, be recovered on motion, with costs	569
A bankrupt act does not furnish the sole remedy for winding up insolvent corporations	459

COSTS.

It is in the discretion of the court to stay proceedings in a second suit until the costs of the first are paid, but stay will only be granted on the ground of vexation	1148
Security for costs will not be required on a libel for a seaman's wages, where the answer was "forfeiture for desertion," and an attachment was issued after hearing on the summons, but such defense was not then interposed	426

COUNTIES.

	Page
Counties in Iowa can issue bonds for borrowed money if authorized by a public vote	107
Bonds under the seal, and signed by the proper officers, of the count, reciting that they are issued under a vote of the people, are presumptively valid	107
In an action on county bonds, a holder need not allege compliance with the conditions on which the issue was authorized	598

COURTS.

In general.
Organization of the federal court by the judiciary act, and the purpose of congress in creating new circuit judgeships, commented on	7141217
Comparative authority of federal and state courts
A circuit court will not enjoin actions pending in a state court	749
The sale of mortgaged property under foreclosure in a state court will not be enjoined at the instance of prior mortgagees not parties in the state court	72
Common-law courts of Massachusetts have no power to adjust maritime liens on a fund attached under the state law	92
A federal court cannot restrain prosecution of a suit pending in a state court, but may act upon the parties who are suitors in the federal court in relation to the same subject-matter	747
Where, pending an action for dissolution of a firm, it was adjudged a bankrupt, and the interest of the partner bringing the action passed to the assignee in bankruptcy, the federal court had no power to take the property from the possession of a receiver appointed by the state court in the action for an accounting, though the interest of both partners had passed to the assignee	835
Federal courts-Jurisdiction in general
While one court of competent jurisdiction has custody of property, no other court of concurrent jurisdiction can acquire jurisdiction of it	692
An allegation that a party is a resident of a state is not sufficient to give the federal court jurisdiction, but it must be alleged that he is a citizen	291
It is not a fraud on the law to remove from one state to another for the purpose of acquiring a right to sue in the federal court, where there is no intention to return	291
One who leaves his domicile and goes to another state to obtain employment will not be considered a citizen of the latter state, so as to give the federal courts jurisdiction, in the absence of proof that he intended a permanent residence there	307
Averment of citizenship is necessary to give jurisdiction to the federal court, and must be proved under the general issue	291
To constitute a person a citizen of the state, so as to sue in the United States court, he must have a domicile in such state	254

	Page
An indorsee of a note may sue the indorser who is a citizen of another state, in the federal courts, though the maker and payee were citizens of the same state	1164
Where a note is indorsed by the payee "to bearer" before the note is put in circulation, a holder who is a citizen of a different state from such indorser may sue him in a federal court, though he was a citizen of the same state as the maker	1162
United States courts, under Rev. St. § 915. have no authority to institute suits of foreign attachment	642
It seems that if the payee of a note after maturity, and before suit brought, becomes a citizen of the same state as the maker, he cannot sue in the federal courts	415
The words in section 11 of the judiciary act of 1789, "unless a suit might have been prosecuted * * * if no assignment had been made," refers to the time when the suit was commenced	415
The assignee of a promissory note may sue on it in the federal court if the assignor might have done so at the time the suit was commenced	415
The payee of a note who was at the time a resident of the same state as the maker, hut afterwards removed therefrom, may sue on the note in the federal court	415
Bond given by city to railroad company in same state cannot be sued in federal courts	962
Interest coupons, though payable to bearer, cannot be sued on in federal court unless the bonds to which they were attached were suable in such court —Superior courts.	962
The superior court, since the act of October 22, 1828, has only appellate jurisdiction —Circuit courts.	923
The organization of the circuit court for the district of Missouri is peculiar, and is provided for by Act Cong. March 31, 1857	714
The circuit court has power to prohibit a nonresident plaintiff from prosecuting an action against a resident defendant	749
Where a bankrupt has possession of property claimed by the assignee, and the bankrupt claims to hold it as agent of a third person, the circuit court has jurisdiction	118
Trover by an assignee for property belonging to the bankrupt lies in the circuit court against the bankrupt and one claiming title	123
A circuit court has jurisdiction to review a judgment of the supreme court reversing a judgment of the circuit court, on proof that both judgments were obtained by fraud	874
The power of the circuit court to review proceedings in bankruptcy is not limited by the amount involved	844

	Page
The circuit court of the District of Columbia can discharge an apprentice on account of the cruelty of the master, and bind him out to another	18
Circuit court of the United States cannot entertain a bill of revivor where the parties are citizens of the same state, though the original parties were citizens of different states	972
—District courts.
Act Cong. April 10, 1869, providing for the appointment of circuit judges, and declaring who should hold circuit courts, did not affect the right of the district judges in Missouri to sit in the circuit court	714
The district courts in bankruptcy have jurisdiction to grant injunctions without notice	86
The district court has exclusive jurisdiction of all controversies between the assignee and the bankrupt, depending on his relation as such	118
The district court has power to issue an attachment against a nonresident of the district	266
A district court of the southern district of Ohio has jurisdiction of a seizure on the Ohio side of the Ohio river at high-water mark	528
—Administration of state laws and decisions.
Statute of New Hampshire relating to actions by administrator does not govern the federal courts in equity	218
A construction given by a state court to the act of limitations of the state will be enforced by the United States bankruptcy court	38
A federal court will give to a discharge under the insolvent law of a state the same effect it has in the state where granted	462
Decision by state court that railroad was not built as authorized by its charter is binding on federal courts within the state, though no judgment or decree was rendered	1044
A federal court may enforce rights under state statutes as well as under acts of congress in any proceeding at common law	9251218
Federal courts-Procedure.
No state law can, proprio vigore , affect the process of federal courts	286
A provision in a state attachment act that a motion to discharge property attached may be made in vacation is not applicable to the federal courts	807
Act Cong. May 19, 1828, § 3, assimilating the process of the federal courts to proceedings then used in the courts of the several states, applies only to existing state laws	286
COVENANTS.
A party may sue without averring performance, where the consideration has been accepted by defendant, and plaintiff has no other remedy than on the covenant, and any breach by plaintiff may be paid for in damages	1170

	Page
A covenant which goes only to part of the consideration on both sides, and a breach of which may be paid for damages, is an independent covenant, and an action for breach may be maintained without averring performance in the declaration.	1170
CUSTOM AND USAGE.
A former course of dealing between A. and a broker is not admissible to explain a contract between A. and B., made through the same broker, if unknown to B., and not founded on a general usage of trade	325
Quaere, whether usages and customs can be introduced as evidence to control the construction of contracts and the principles of law	719
CUSTOMS DUTIES.
Customs laws.
Under Act Aug. 30, 1842, § 16, assessing duties, all costs and charges are to be included in actual market value	1128
The commercial meaning of "blanket," in the tariff act of 1857, is to be traced only to the time of the passage of that act	651
The tariff act of 1857 operated simply as a reduction as to duties of the act of 1846	653
Act Cong. March 2, 1799, as amended by act of 1816, authorizing collectors to pay fees due to officers of the customs out of the revenue of the United States, creates no lien on money in his hands, arising from the revenue	438
An ex-collector cannot appropriate monies of the United States in his hands in payment of fees due to officers of the customs (Act March 2, 1799), as such authority can be exercised only by the collector actually in office	438
Logs purchased for exportation are, while awaiting shipment, though still on land, "exports," within Const, art. 10, § 1, prohibiting imposts or duties on exports	943
Under the treasury regulations of February 17, 1849, an importer, before he can use his own store for the deposit of importations, must indorse on the entry an agreement to pay an amount equal to the salary of the inspector, or one-half storage	900
Where importations were deposited by the importer in his own store under Act March 28, 1854, the importer was liable for half storage	900
Bates of duty.
Value of goods purchased in bulk, and afterwards put in a packing house for convenience, does not include cost of packing	1128
Under Act June 30. 1864. § S, "ribbons" must be read "silk ribbons."	500

Rate of duty on wine imported in bottles, each containing more than a pint and less than a quart, is controlled by actual cost of the wine, and not by its cost estimated on the supposition that each bottle contained a quart	319
Under Act March 3, 1869, the dutiable value of merchandise is the actual market value or wholesale price at period of exportation in country from which it was exported, exclusive of commissions, etc	1128
Payment-Protest-Appeal
The protest, under Act Feb. 26, 1845. is insufficient, which does not set forth distinctly the grounds of objection to the appraisement, or wherein the appraisers were disqualified	652
Violations of law-Forfeiture
Where goods, the property of a foreign manufacturer, are consigned to the party who entered them, the latter is not liable to a penalty for undervaluation, under Act March 30, 1846, § 8	652
Evidence is not sufficient to sustain forfeiture of vessel for smuggling where the only evidence was that of the seamen who were arrested in the act of smuggling, and promised immunity if they would testify against the vessel	1029
Where there was, through mistake, an error in an invoice and entry, and a correct invoice was obtained, a penalty for undervaluation should not be imposed.	90
Where property is forfeited, it does not vest in the government until after a seizure	909
A vessel receiving smuggled goods is not liable to forfeiture	909
DAMAGES.
Damages for breach of contract cannot extend to probable profits	466
DEDICATION.
A dedication to public uses by parties in possession prior to the donation act of September 27, 1850, does not affect such land in the hands of persons succeeding in such possession	487
A dedication alleged to have been made within the memory of living witnesses cannot be proved by reputation	487
DEED.
Where an instrument was signed, but left with a third person without any authority to deliver it to the grantee, there is no delivery	138
DEMURRAGE.
Where a charter party contained no provision as to the discharge of a cargo, and the usual time for unloading such a cargo was 15 days, no claim for demurrage could exist until the expiration of the 15 days	67
Where there is no contract that demurrage shall depend on the earnings of freight, demurrage for detention at an intermediate port is due at such port	94

	Page
Where a bill of lading provided for demurrage after lay days beginning 24 hours after arrival and notice, and the vessel, on account of ice, cannot land at the consignee's wharf, lay days begin to run 24 hours after notice to the consignee that she had been taken to another wharf	6481219
DEPOSITION
Service of notice of taking the deposition by leaving a copy at the place of abode of the adverse party is insufficient.	159
A disagreement between parties as to interrogatories should be referred to a master in chancery to be settled by him subject to the review of the court on appeal from the report	1150
Exceptions to interrogatories are waived unless they are propounded as objections before the commission issues	1150
A magistrate who takes a deposition under an act of congress (1 Stat. 73) need not certify that deponents subscribed it in his presence	368
Title of cause in which deposition is taken under act of congress (1 Stat 73) must be truly stated in the certificate of the caption	368
DISCOVERY.
Defendant may be required to produce books and papers before trial for plaintiffs inspection	357
DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.
A ratification by congress of a charter granted the canal company by Virginia makes it an act of congress as to such district	563
EJECTMENT.
A purchaser at a sheriff's sale of an equitable estate has no title on which to maintain ejectment	174
Act Cong. July 1, 1862, granting a right of way to the Central Pacific Railroad Company 200 feet wide on each side of the track, gives an exclusive right of possession, for which the company may maintain ejectment	363
A person making a void entry on the Virginia military district of Ohio, having a patent, is entitled to improvements under the occupying claimant law	634
EMINENT DOMAIN.
To condemn land for the use of a canal is to take private property for public use	563
The company condemning the land is the sole judge of what interest will be necessary for its operations	570
An inquisition condemning more land than necessary will be set aside	569
A reference in the inquisition to the description of the land in the warrant is sufficient	561
It is not necessary that the inquisition contain the names of jurors summoned, but not sworn	561

	Page
The jury should describe the boundaries of the land, and the quality and duration of the estate in the same	570
Where several warrants have been returned with inquisitions, and each inquisition refers to the warrant returned therewith, it can be shown by parol which warrant is applicable to each inquisition	570
A day certain must be fixed in the warrant for the meeting of the jury, and the want thereof is fatal	563
The assessment of damages by a jury fulfills the requirement that no private property shall be taken for public use without compensation	563
Where a charter does not require notice to the party whose lands are to be condemned, the inquisitions need not state that such notice has been given	570
It is not necessary that the inquisition state the value of the land separately from the damages	570

EQUITY.

A bill is multifarious which mingles independent claims of plaintiff with those which he has as administrator	218
A bill to cancel an agreement is defective which does not bring the proper parties before the court, and alleges mistake, without fraud, as a ground for relief	218
A deed of trust, which, by mistake, states that it secures a certain note, may be reformed so as to secure a bond	939
A bond given for the price of property will be canceled where the vendor, in default of the payment, conveys the property to a third person	282
Cause in equity, in which no appeal lies to the supreme court, may be reheard, if petition is filed before end of next term after final decree	987
Equity can control the manner in which one railroad shall cross another, when not regulated by statute	590
It is no ground for setting aside the subscription to corporate stock that defendant did not understand he was liable to installments on the stock	562
A bank is a proper party complainant to enjoin a collection of a tax upon its shares assessed against its stockholders	755

ESTOPPEL.

One who recommends an invention to another, disclaiming all interest therein, is estopped from claiming a prior invention	163
---	-----

EVIDENCE.

A letter-press copy made at the same time cannot be received as an original paper	468
A bill of lading cannot be contradicted by parol	468
Where books produced under notice are not allowed to be used by the other side, parol evidence of their contents is competent	123

	Page
Parol evidence is admissible to show what is reasonable time for performance of written contract which does not specify any time	1151
Where the policy on the cargo was expressed to be on account of owner, parol evidence is admissible to show who were intended	291
Expert testimony is to be considered like any other testimony	195
Expert testimony is not admissible to prove that a rule of navigation does not exist in a particular locality	1015
Witnesses experienced in the special business of ferriage without New York City may testify as to the value of use of ferryboat in such waters	329
Where the testimony in a case is mere matter of opinion, the jury cannot decide according to the number of witnesses alone, but must consider their intelligence, and the manner in which they testify	1144
The record of a suit in admiralty brought by a trustee is admissible, in favor of the cestuis que trustent, to show the recovery, and the title on which it rested	674
A sworn copy of a paper is not evidence, unless the witness states that he compared it with the original	314
A duly-certified copy of the register of a ship, transmitted, on loss of the vessel, to the register of the treasury, to be canceled, is legal evidence	2911220
As a surrogate acts in the capacity of clerk and judge, he must certify as to the authentication under the act of congress	314
Where a policy refers to representations of the assured, and provides that they are to be true, evidence outside the record is admissible to show that they were	889
An old entry in a memorandum book, stating the ages of the members of the writer's family, is admissible to prove age of a witness	829
An answer by one who is charged with a forfeiture under a law of the United States is not admissible against him in an action brought against him for a penalty under the same law	930
Declarations of a bankrupt were properly admitted in evidence on the trial of a suit between his assignee and a third person as to title to certain property	844
EXECUTION
A sale of property under execution will not be enjoined where it is averred that no legal injury will result to the execution debtor from such sale	404
EXECUTORS AND ADMINISTRATORS.
An administrator may sue in the circuit court of New Hampshire as a citizen of Maine, if he takes out letters of administration in New Hampshire	218
An execution de bonis propriis is the proper process against executor on a decree in equity for the balance of the administration account	291
Declaration by executor need not state by whom the letters testamentary were granted	322

An orphans' court cannot annex conditions to the payment of the dividend on a judgment recovered against the intestate.	563
A defendant who pleads general issue in an action by executor appointed in another state on a cause of action arising in testator's lifetime cannot, on the trial, require plaintiff to produce letters testamentary	436
FACTORS AND BROKERS.
Where a sale is made in disregard of instructions, the consignor may recover damages	468
FRAUD.
Where fraud is charged, evidence tending to prove it, though it be slight, is admissible	118
FRAUDS, STATUTE OF.
Goods in United States bonded warehouse, on which duties have not been paid, are in possession of the United States; and an order therefor from the owner, though accepted by the warehouseman, is not a sufficient delivery or receipt and acceptance, under the statute of frauds	1050
A memorandum, "Received $1,000. to be accounted for if the parties shall furnish satisfactory security for certain lands, say 119,000 acres for $113,000, on or before Friday morning next, otherwise to be forfeited." is a sufficient memorandum of sale.	858
A parol contract in Virginia in 1787 for land in Kentucky, where the consideration was paid, was not void	154
FRAUDULENT CONVEYANCES.
See, also, "Bankruptcy."
Where a conveyance is absolute in form, but is in fact only a mortgage, the land is liable on execution, subject to the mortgage charged	613
A deed of manumission by a resident to his slaves pending a suit by his wife for alimony is fraudulent and void, if made to prevent her from recovering her claim.	808
The question whether the sale of a vessel was fraudulent cannot be raised by third parties	819
A chattel mortgage is void, as against the creditors of the mortgagor, where it is the intention of the parties that the mortgaged property should remain in possession of the mortgagor, and to be used and disposed of by him	300
Leases of property of insolvent railroad company for indefinite time tends to hinder or delay its creditors	1030
Deed by corporation to its directors is void as against creditors of corporation.	1030
Conveyance by insolvent to his mother for expressed consideration of an account due to her, and conveyance by her immediately afterwards to her daughter in consideration of natural love and affection, are indications of bad faith	991

	Page
A conveyance by an insolvent to his mother, which recites an alleged account, as the consideration thereof, is fraudulent, where it had been running for 23 years without a demand for payment, and it appears that some of the items had been guessed at, and the account was first reduced to writing when the conveyance was made	991
A gratuity cannot afterwards be converted into a debt, so as to support a conveyance to the prejudice of the grantor's creditors	991
GAMING.
A sale for future delivery is not invalid, as a gaming contract, unless the intention that there should not be actual performance was mutual	955
A valid contract of sale for future delivery is not rendered illegal by a subsequent settlement by payment of difference	955
GENERAL AVERAGE.
If the cargo or ship, or any part of either, be voluntarily sacrificed or exposed to danger for the common safety, the part saved shall contribute to repair the loss sustained, provided the object for which the sacrifice was made be obtained	332
An intention to consign to inevitable loss goods thrown overboard is not necessary to authorize a claim for general average.
It is sufficient to justify a claim to contribution if the danger sought to be avoided is so imminent that the measure adopted may be beneficial to all	332
Where a ship is landed to avoid capture, and before she is boarded a large part of her cargo is saved, there can be no contribution, because the object for which the ship was being exposed was not obtained	332
GIFTS.
Choses in action may be the subject of gifts causa mortis	460
Money on deposit may be delivered as a gift causa mortis by delivery of the certificate of deposit	460
GRANT.
Mexican land grant held entitled to confirmation under United States v. Rodriguez, Case No. 16,184	2831221
A grant by a political chief for the time being of Alta California was not invalid, though it did not receive the previous approbation of the territorial deputation	380
A Mexican land grant will be confirmed where the conditions as to cultivation and habitation annexed to the grant have been performed	387
Section 7, Act Cong. July 1, 1862, granting land to the Central Pacific Railroad Company, which required the company, within two years, to designate the route of the road and file a map, did not affect the grant of the right of way, but only furnished the means by which the land taken by the railroad could be withdrawn from private entry	364

Act Cong. July 1, 1862, granting land to the Central Pacific Railroad Company, was a present grant, operating immediately on the passage of the act	364
A grant by a political chief of Alta California was not invalid because the lands were not within the limits of a mission, or within 10 leagues of the seacoast, or because he approbation of the supreme executive did not appear, though it had been obtained	380
Conditions in a grant that the grantee should build and inhabit a house within a certain time, and obtain judicial possession of the land, are conditions subsequent	380
The railroad companies to which land was regranted on the failure of original grantees to build the roads do not hold the lands subject to any trust in favor of the creditors of the state or of the former companies	417
GUARANTY.
Where notes issued by the trustee of two railroad companies are indorsed by one of the companies that it guaranties payment, principal and interest, according to its tenor, and orders the contents to be paid to bearer, such company is liable on the notes as guarantor	1157
HABEAS CORPUS.
Where an internal revenue officer is held under an indictment in a state court for an offense committed under color of the laws of United States, a petition for a writ must be brought under the seventh section of the act of March 2, 1833	171
Where a discharge is asked on the ground that the indictment did not aver an offense against the United States in the district in which an indictment was found, the indictment will be sustained unless so defective that it would be the duty of the court before which it was presented to refuse to take action on it	833
Whether, in a proceeding before a commissioner for release on habeas corpus, an indictment under which petitioner is held can be examined, quaere	833
HUSBAND AND WIFE.
A chose in action accruing to a married woman survives to her unless the husband reduces it to possession during his lifetime	503
Where a husband has reduced a legacy to a wife to his possession, a promise to pay to the wife a sum equal to the proceeds is not supported by the right of the wife to interpose in equity to prevent her husband from so taking possession	3
A note and check given by a husband to a wife do not support a trust, though the note bears the indorsement to the effect that it was given for money accruing to the wife from her father's estate	3
A legacy to a wife of a share of the residue of her father's estate, including proceeds of lands and stocks, does not constitute a separate estate under the Delaware statute of 1865	3

	Page
INDIANS.
The territory of Alaska, under Act March 3, 1873, became, as to the introduction of liquors, "Indian country," and the military force of the United States may be employed for the arrest of persons violating the Indian intercourse act of 1834	115
No person arrested by military authority in the Indian country for selling liquors contrary to law can be detained more than five days before the delivery to the civil authorities for trial	115
INFANCY.
A contract by a minor to serve as a seaman with the assent of his father does not bind the minor or his father after he obtained his majority	1200
In a suit against an infant, notice should be served on him and the guardian ad litem appointed	154
INJUNCTION.
One who has broken a mutual covenant cannot enjoin the other parties from violating the covenant	1103
Injunction will not lie against equitable owner of patent on application of legal owner	1097
Where right to temporary injunction depends merely on the interpretation of a written instrument, the court should interpret it, and grant or refuse the injunction accordingly	1097
An injunction will lie to restrain a trespass causing irreparable mischief	497
Where complainant's equity is not clear, a preliminary injunction should not be granted unless the damage is irreparable	11
A projected publication will not be protected by injunction	356
Publication of a libel injurious to plaintiff's business will be enjoined only when it appears that the statement is malicious as well as false	345
A collection of a tax may be enjoined where the law authorizing it is invalid, or its enforcement would lead to a multiplicity of suits	755
Federal courts are prohibited by Rev. St. § 720, except in certain cases in bankruptcy, from enjoining proceedings in any court of a state	406
An injunction will be dissolved on bill and answer where the charges are denied, though in part on information, where that part was corroborated by the bill	204
Where a party acting under competent advice, and with no intention of disobeying the order of the court, violates an injunction, no fine will be imposed, but he will pay the costs of the application	191
INSPECTION.
In action for penalty for altering inspector's marks on flour, the marks and alterations need not be set out	1083

	Page
Flour inspected under the Virginia act of December 21, 1792, must be branded "Condemned," or it is not within section 10 nor 15	1083
INSURANCE.
Mere expression of opinion does not constitute material misrepresentation	9901222
A misrepresentation of a material fact is fatal, though made by an agent without the knowledge of the principal	105
False representation, to avoid policy, must be material, either in relation to rate of premium or as offering false inducement to risk	990
Where material facts are suppressed in representations made a part of the policy, the insurance is avoided	889
Where a material change is made in the mode of using property insured, and no notice is given at the time or before the renewal, old and new policies are void	889
Policy against loss "by fire originating in any cause except design in the insured" covers loss where building is left vacant, and is burned by intruders	310
Conditions are to be construed strictly against those for whose benefits they are intended, when they impose burdens on the other party	310
A recital in a policy that the premises insured are "to be occupied hereafter as a tavern, and privileged as such," is not a warranty that the house should be constantly occupied as a tavern	310
A clause avoiding liability in case of the death of the insured by his act or intent, whether sane or insane, is valid	481
Condition in policy of reinsurance that reinsurer shall pay pro rata at and in the same time and manner as the reinsured, means that the reinsurer shall have all the advantages specified in the policy of the reinsured, and does not refer to the insolvency of the reinsured	270
Condition, in policy of reinsurance, for immediate notice of loss, means that the notice must be given in a reasonable time under the circumstances	270
Service of copies of proofs of loss and notice is sufficient if not objected to at the time	270
Provision in policy requiring notice of loss and "a particular account of such loss or damage" requires an account of the articles lost, and does not refer to the manner and cause of the loss	310
Proofs of loss need not negative exceptions of losses from design, etc., which are matters of defense	310
Where the insurer refuses payment because the policy has been canceled, a proof of loss is waived	87
In assumpsit on a policy with accounts for money had and received, plaintiff can recover premiums paid, though the policy did not attach	889
The burden of proof is on the insurer to show willful burning	87

	Page
An adjudication of bankruptcy terminates the interest of a bankrupt in a policy, and it is void unless assigned to the assignee	101
Where a mutual insurance company was authorized to insure for premiums "to be paid in cash, as insurance companies not mutual are accustomed to do." the company could accept a note for such premium instead of cash	60
INTEREST.
Interest is not recoverable on a debt owing by an inhabitant of Oregon to an inhabitant of Arkansas while the latter state was in insurrection	503
Where the trustees on foreclosure allow time on the price at a reasonable interest, the debt secured by the deed continues to bear its original interest	194
INTERNAL REVENUE.
Act July 13, 1866, § 23, does not prevent the owner of goods seized unlawfully from suing the seizing officer for trespass	45
Under Act July 13, 1866, § 70, a retail or other dealer offering canned goods for sale after August 1, 1866, was to be deemed the manufacturer thereof, and such goods were liable to a duty	45
The court has power to authorize an assessor to amend his application for attachment for contempt against a taxpayer for not producing his books, and giving evidence concerning his liability for the incometax	401
An assessor has no right, in order to determine liability for income tax, to examine books of third persons who have had dealings with the taxpayer	401
On the application by an assessor for an attachment for contempt against a taxpayer for not producing his books and giving evidence as to his liability for the income tax, the court may issue an order to show cause, instead of proceeding ex parte	401
Certificates of stock representing the pro rata interest of stockholders in a railroad foreclosed by the corporation issuing the stock are not dividends, within Act July 1, 1862, the mortgage representing advances made	600
A tax of 1–24 of 1 per cent, each month on deposits subject to check is collectible under Act June 30, 1864, § 110, even though interest is allowed on such deposits	856
Act June 30, 1864, § 110. does not authorize a tax of 1–24 of 1 per cent, on money borrowed by a banking firm	856
A person having a license of a hanker, who receives stocks, etc., and sells them, charging as a banker, is not liable to a tax imposed under ninety-ninth section of Act June 30, 1864, imposing a tax on brokers.	872
A person purchasing stock for others in his own name, advancing his own money, and holding the stock as security, is liable to a tax as a broker	872
INTERNATIONAL LAW.
The island of St Domingo is a dependence of France, within the non-intercourse act of March 1, 1807	932

	Page
If the island of St. Domingo was conquered by the British and given up to the blacks, the right of France would have revived, as a conqueror gains nothing but the temporary right of possession, and cannot, in the meantime, impair the rights of the former sovereign	932
Where a bridge is unlawful as obstructing a river, in violation of a treaty with a foreign country, it is an international question, to be determined by the executive and legislative department	1060
INTERPLEADER.
A bank may have relief by interpleader against adversary parties claiming money therein deposited	747
JUDGMENT.
Rendition and entry.
In an action on a joint contract against two, where one has suffered default, and the other has obtained verdict, judgment must be entered for both	436
An execution on a supersedeas judgment confessed two months after the original judgment will be quashed	560
Operation and effect.
A judgment of the United States court is a lien on lands throughout the district in which it is recovered	168
The lien of a judgment of the United States court on the lands of defendant cannot be restricted by state statutes.	1681223
A judgment is a bar to a new suit for the same purpose when substantially the same as the first, except for averments therein of immaterial matter	256
Grant of administration, with will annexed, to a husband of testatrix, is conclusive as to her right to make the will	277
In Virginia, a judgment by confession is equal to a release of errors	290
An adjudication by a surrogate that an administrator was decedent's next of kin, in a contest between him and another as to the grant of letters of administration, is not conclusive on the question of distribution	316
A decision of the supreme court, on appeal in a suit in equity, that plaintiff's remedy was by action at law, and remanding the cause for trial at law, is conclusive as to plaintiff's right thus to sue	359
Unless the same subject-matter was involved, and the same questions raised, judgment recovered is not res judicata	869
The federal courts will not entertain a bill by a nonresident stockholder of a domestic corporation, where the issues raised by the bill have been already adjudicated by the state court in a suit between the corporation and the proper adversary parties	408
Assignment.
In Indiana, judgments are assignable by indorsements on the record attested by the clerk	320

	Page
Judgments may be assigned otherwise than of record, but payment to the assignor before notice of the assignment is valid	320
Amendment.
A judgment may be amended four years after rendition by adding the name of another person as to benefit	1179
Satisfaction.
Agreement for full satisfaction of judgment in consideration of payment of less than amount of judgment is not a full satisfaction	320
Matter of defense, though not pleaded in action in which judgment was recovered, is, if the subject of cross action against party recovering such judgment, a sufficient consideration for agreement to satisfy the judgment	320
Burden is on judgment creditor who executed satisfaction of judgment to show that it was void	320
An administrator who gives a mortgage to secure a decree requiring him to pay money, and afterwards sells the land, the mortgage not having been recorded, is liable on the mortgage, and not on the decree	1120
Relief against.
The absence of a witness is no ground for an injunction to stay the proceedings on the judgment	496
Where fraud is charged in a bill to set aside a judgment, and positively denied in the answer, a decree for complainant cannot be rendered on the uncorroborated testimony of a single witness	874
JUDICIAL SALES.
A sale by a trustee under a decree of court will not pass title to land in the actual adverse possession of a third person at the time of the decree	162
JURY.
A juror who has a case at issue at the same term will he discharged	809
JUSTICES OF THE PEACE.
A creditor has no right to give a false credit on a note, so as to reduce it to the jurisdiction of a justice of the peace	337
LIBEL AND SLANDER.
Where a paper written to prevent the appointment of a party to office states that his reputation was bad, and there was probable cause for writing the paper, plaintiff could not recover for libel	868
LIENS.
Agreement by mill owners to improve water power, each party's share of the expense to be a lien on his estate, gives each party who pays more than his share a lien for the excess	981
One who builds cars for a railroad company has no lien on the cars for his work, in the absence of a special agreement	1172
LIMITATION OF ACTIONS.

	Page
Where a bankrupt was a nonresident when the cause of action accrued, and had not resided more than three years in the state thereafter, the state statute of limitations was no defense to be set up by the assignee against the claim	38
To avoid the statute, complainant must allege ignorance of the fraud, and when it was discovered	137
After the act of July 13, 1861, declaring the inhabitants of Arkansas to be in a state of insurrection, the period during which such insurrection existed is not to be counted as a part of the limitations for suit in Oregon	503
Where the statute is pleaded to two counts in a declaration, it is sufficient if it is good as to one	587
Where a subcontractor was to receive his pay when the contractor received his, his cause of action against the contractor did not accrue until the contractor had made final settlement with the owner	587
It is a good replication to a plea of the statute that plaintiff has never been within the state where suit is brought	649
A bill filed after the two-years limitation has expired is not an amendment of a suit for the same cause of action, filed before the two years, and subsequently dismissed	874
Where statute of limitations is pleaded, plaintiff cannot obtain benefit of exception in favor of merchants accounts without setting them up in his replication	973
Where mill owners agreed to improve the water power, each party's share of the expense to be a lien on his estate, such lien is not barred in less time by the local law in action to foreclose a mortgage	981
Even if there were no statutes of limitation, equity would not disturb a purchaser under a mortgage who had been in possession 15 years with knowledge of a junior mortgagee	1038
Ten years' limitation applies to foreclosure of mortgage where mortgagee knew the land had been sold under prior mortgages, and the purchaser was in possession claiming title	1038
Statutes of foreclosure and redemption are rules of property, and also laws of limitation, and will be applied to proceedings in equity in the absence of a special statute.	1038

LOTTERIES.

The purchaser of a lottery ticket from one authorized by the city of Washington to conduct a lottery cannot recover from the city the prize drawn by his ticket	934
---	-----

MANDAMUS.

On mandamus to compel levy of taxes to pay judgment against a county, no matter is available as a defense which was properly used in resisting recovery of judgment	10481224
---	----------

	Page
The fact that county commissioners have been enjoined by state court from assessing tax to pay judgment rendered by federal court is no defense to an application to federal court for mandamus to compel	1048
MARINE INSURANCE.
Where a premium note is not paid at maturity, and the policy provides that it shall be void while it remains overdue, and, after dishonor of the note, the vessel strands, and the master pays the note, and a gale comes up and the vessel is lost, the insurer is not liable	48
In case of the total loss, the insurance is what the property insured was worth at the time and place of shipping, the expenses of lading included	178
The invoice price is not a proper test of value of the property lost	178
In a valued policy, the assured need not prove at the trial the amount of the loss	178
Averment that plaintiffs have entire interest in the subject is not supported by evidence of the joint interest with others, nor can averment of a joint interest be supported by proof of the sole interest	291
Testimony of the captain that the vessel was condemned on his application after report by the surveyors that she could not be repaired except at too great expense, though not evidence of such proceedings, is evidence that he coincided with surveyors in opinion	291
A part owner of a shipment of specie, who had no interest in the insurance thereon, was appointed supercargo, his duties as such to commence when the voyage ended. The voyage was broken up, and the master delivered the specie to the supercargo, who invested it. Held , that such investment was not an act of ownership, but was as agent for the underwriters, and did not waive the abandonment	291
Where a stranded vessel, before abandonment, was gotten off, but was in the meantime sold at auction by the master and purchased by him, the owner cannot recover for total loss	667
A policy on a vessel is not rendered void because the ship took on board a chain cable smuggled by another vessel on loss by perils of the sea	909
If the voyage, as originally insured, be valid, any subsequent illegality in the course of the voyage will not affect the policy as to property not tainted with such illegality	909
Liability to forfeiture for smuggling does not avoid the insurance	909
Knowledge of loss before insurance by one who was not the agent of the insured for any purpose connected with the insurance is not notice to the insured	1020
The burden is on the insurer to prove that the insuree knew that the property was lost when he procured the insurance	1020
In adjusting a loss under a policy on a cargo, the value is to be ascertained at the port from which the vessel last sailed before the loss; and if freight has	287

there been earned, and not paid, it is not chargeable on the salvage, but is an addition to the original cargo
MARITIME LIENS.
Act March 3, 1855, § 15, providing that the penalties imposed by the provisions regulating the carriage of passengers shall be liens on the vessel, does not apply to a fine on the master, imposed for a misdemeanor	7
Persons employed to load and navigate a vessel plying principally for the transportation of stone, and licensed for the coasting trade, have a lien for wages	29
Where a contract of service is for the navigation of tide waters, and laying stone on wharves is incidental thereto, the whole service is maritime	29
A vessel being sailed by the master on shares does not affect the lien of the seamen	29
The lien for wages is not lost by delay where no interests of third persons intervene	29
Where the cargo is delivered unconditionally, the lien for the freight is lost.	66
It is no defense to a suit to hold freight for mariners' wages that the consignee, before libels were filed, was summoned as a garnishee of the shipowner	92
When supplies have been furnished in a foreign port or a state other than that to which the vessel belongs, the liens are admiralty liens, unaffected by local law	164
A lien for supplies furnished in Virginia on a ship owned in Maine is not lost by taking bills in exchange on an owner, which bills were produced for cancellation	202
A lien for freight may be abandoned	374
Clause in charter party that freight shall be paid within a certain time after vessel's discharge does not waive a lien for freight, as the word "discharge" merely refers to the unloading, and not to the delivery of the cargo	374
Where a charter party provides for a gross sum as freight, payable on the close of the whole voyage, and the bill of lading declares that the return cargo shall be delivered to the shippers, they paying freight as per charter party, a lien attaches to the homeward cargo for freight due for the whole voyage, and the consignee, on receipt of the goods, becomes personally liable	374
By the law of England, no lien existed for supplies furnished domestic vessel before 3 & 4 Vict	427
A lien for supplies is divested by an assignment of the claim.	428
Lien follows the ship wherever she goes, and may be enforced wherever there is jurisdiction to enforce it	428
3 & 4 Vict, relates to liens for supplies furnished foreign vessels, and is declaratory of the maritime law	428

	Page
There is a lien in Canada for supplies furnished American vessel, and a court of admiralty has the power to enforce it	428
There is no lien for services as ship keeper while the vessel is laid up during the winter	434
Where a vessel goes from a home port to another state to be repaired, a libel will lie against her at her home port for the balance due	661
A vessel is liable for authorized advances to a cook, made by the broker who shipped him, though the cook deserts	667
Vessels belonging to one state, but in the ports of another, are deemed foreign, within the rule of the general maritime law giving a lien for supplies	676
Liens for supplies, given by the general maritime law, cannot be affected by state legislation	679
Lien for supplies furnished to a foreign vessel is governed by the general maritime law, and not by the local law of any particular state	680
New York statute giving a lien for repairs and supplies to vessels is valid in regard to domestic vessels, but does not apply to foreign vessels	680
The effect, as a payment, of a note given for supplies furnished a foreign vessel, is governed by the lex loci, and the lien is not waived where the note was by the lex loci only a conditional payment	6801225
The lien on a vessel must be enforced within a reasonable time, or it will not avail against a bona fide purchaser	680
The general maritime law does not give a lien for supplies furnished to a vessel in the state where she belongs	689
The new twelfth rule in admiralty, of 1872, does not revive a claim which is almost barred by limitation, and make it a lien on the vessel, so as to cut off titles perfected or acquired before such rule was adopted	711
Where a charterer becomes owner of a vessel for a voyage, his agent can bind the vessel for coal supplied in a foreign port	777
Where the charterer hires the use of the vessel, and the navigation remains with the owner, and the master, on the credit of the vessel, procures coal in a foreign port, the vessel is chargeable	777
A master of a ship has a lien thereon for necessary disbursements abroad of his own money	832
A contract to furnish labor, materials, and stores for building and equipping vessel is not a maritime contract, and no lien is thereby created which can be enforced in rem	1179
MARSHALS.
Marshal cannot detain defendant on a ca. sa. for poundage, if plaintiff has received the debt and costs	317
A marshal is not entitled to compensation for custody of property under process in admiralty, beyond $2.50 per day	710

A marshal who holds property under several processes in admiralty is entitled to a per diem custody fee, to be apportioned among the cases in which the several processes were issued	710
Under Rev. St. § 829, a marshal is entitled to a commission as for the sale of property in a suit in rem against a vessel, where process issued and a bond was given, though the amount of the final decree was paid before execution	800
MASTER AND SERVANT.
The owner of a railroad track is not liable for negligence of the servants of another railroad company while operating a train on such track	1105
MINES AND MINING.
Placer claims may be located and occupied jointly	497
The locator of a mining claim need not take any steps to purchase the same unless he thinks proper	497
MUNICIPAL CORPORATIONS.
The city of Washington has no power to prohibit free colored persons from selling perfumery	62
Where a city was authorized to borrow a specified sum, and issue its bonds therefor, and the money was borrowed and the bonds issued, its power was exhausted.	635
A city has no power to issue bonds, the consideration of which cannot be inquired into in the hands of a bona fide holder	635
A city is not bound, under all circumstances, to keep the sidewalks free from ice	863
The existence of a step in a sidewalk is not such a defect as to render the city liable for accidents to passengers stepping from one elevation to another	863
Where a street of proper width has been duly laid out, and the damages assessed include remuneration for the land taken, for the deprivation of any right or privilege attached to it, and for the damages done to the land adjoining that taken, the owner is not entitled to further compensation because the sides of the street were cut down perpendicularly, whereby the adjoining land was caused to cave into the street	534
Municipal corporation may change the grade of the street without becoming liable to the adjoining landowners for the consequential damage caused to them in adapting their land to the grade, and protecting it	534
A municipal corporation, in opening a street, does not incur any liability for consequential damages necessarily done to the land adjoining that taken, where reasonable care was exercised	534
NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS.
Interest coupons attached to municipal bond are not negotiable instruments, but are mere evidences of interest due on the bond, and assumpsit cannot be maintained there on	962

Quaere, whether a guaranty running “to the bearer” of a negotiable note is negotiable	1157
A protest of interest coupons is sufficient to charge the indorser of the notes from which they were cut, though the notary did not have the notes as well as the coupons to present for payment	1162
A bank which receives a note for collection from another bank, indorsed by the cashier thereof, need not give notice of nonpayment to any other party than such bank	1163
A note may be good against an indorser, though it is void as against the maker	1167
NEUTRALITY LAWS.
Neutral rights are not violated by the grant of a commission of a neutral while within the territory of the belligerent	390
A colony in rebellion is within the law of nations relating to the rights of neutrals, without regard to its status as a state	390
Belligerent captures by privateers armed and equipped within the United States in violation of the neutrality of the United States may be restored to the injured belligerent, if brought within the jurisdiction of the federal courts	390
Quaere, whether a colony in a state of rebellion is embraced by Act Cong. 1794, prohibiting the enlistment of soldiers, etc., within the limits of the United States to enter the service of any foreign prince or state	390
NEW TRIAL.
A new trial will not be granted to contradict the witness by negative evidence, nor to impeach a witness	116
A party suppressed at the trial, who does not apply for a continuance, cannot have a new trial for that reason	116
It is not sufficient ground for a new trial that the evidence is conflicting	123
Where the verdict has done substantial justice, information given by one juror to the others is not ground for new trial	557
A verdict will not be set aside, as against the evidence, where it does not appear to be the result of passion or mistake	630
The statute of the state of Maine giving a party in default right to a trial on proof of a probably good defense within three years is not repugnant to the judiciary act of 1789, authorizing a new trial on motion after verdict	9251226
One who suffers default, supposing the case was agreed to be continued, is entitled, under statute of the state of Maine, to a trial within three years, on proof of a probably good defense	925
A new trial will not be granted on the ground of newly-discovered evidence, where counsel did not think the evidence would be material, and did not know of it, though it might easily have been discovered	1162
PARTIES.
Want of parties may be objected to at any time, even in the appellate court.	179

	Page
Where no final decree can be made without prejudice to parties not before the court, the court will not proceed, even though the parties are beyond reach of its process	179
Where a debt is due to two persons, and a settlement with the executor of one made after the death of both, and notes given to him for the balance, he may sue in his own name, as the doctrine of survivorship does not apply	315
A misjoinder of parties is waived, unless taken advantage of by plaintiff in abatement	450, 1029
On a joint and several bond, plaintiff may sue one or all of the obligors, but not an intermediate number	450

PARTNERSHIP.

A partner is bound by the act of his copartner, within the scope of his business, though the act be fraudulent as between the partners	34
Partnership creditors have no lien of the firm property before obtaining judgment and execution	245
A simple contract creditor cannot sue to follow partnership property used to pay individual debts	245
In an action against two persons as partners, an account book containing entries made by both defendants is admissible as evidence of partnership	436
Where the surviving partner notified creditors that his brother's capital remained in the business, a joint creditor of the firm, who did not receive the notice, could require the joint property to be applied to his debts to the exclusion of separate creditors	814
The creditors of a firm may enforce in equity the application of the joint estate to the payment of the joint debts against the survivor 813,	814
The exchange of a note of a firm dissolved by the death of one partner, for a similar note signed by the survivor, does not convert the firm debt into the separate debt of the survivor	816
When one of two partners sues on a partnership demand, defendant may take advantage of it at the trial	1183

PATENTS FOR INVENTIONS.

See, also, infra , subtitle "Infringement."
Patentability-What constitutes.
Defendant cannot embody in his machine the patented discoveries held by the plaintiff, and add new inventions of his own or others thereto	140
Where the subject of the patent was already open to common use, the patent is invalid	140
A patent is valid which consists of a new combination, though composed of parts well known and in common use	140
A result or an effect cannot be patented	248
The utility of an invention need not be great in order to render it patentable	452

	Page
That there is a difference in construction which allows the use of an invention claimed in a different way from an invention patented, though seldom required to be so used, does not deprive the claim of the qualities of a useful invention	452
First inventor has the prior right to a patent if he uses reasonable diligence, though the second inventor has in fact reduced it to a perfect form	452
An invention is patentable if it appears to be capable of reduction to actual practical use, though it has not been so reduced	452
A patent will not be granted for a device differing only in form from one in prior use	526
A new combination of old mechanical devices producing new results is patentable	617
A hand mirror with a handle extension of wire covered with cement forming the handle and back is patentable, as distinguished from a brush, though the handles and backs of the two are made in the same way	917
To authorize a patent, some inventive skill must be exercised, but the degree of that skill is not material	987
Old instruments placed in a new and different organization do not prevent the new mechanism from being patented	987
To justify finding of anticipation the jury must find that the alleged anticipation embodied substantially the same organized mechanism operating in the same manner as that described in patents	987
On an issue as to anticipation it is a pertinent question why the mechanism described in the prior patent, and known to the whole world, was not applied to the same uses as plaintiff's	987
The application to the moving and holding of a rudder of an endless screw working in the cogs on the periphery of a quadrant does not involve invention	1145
Who may obtain patent.
Where there was no product of the machine invented until after the maker had seen similar machines of another for the same purpose, he is not the prior inventor	205
Where an interference has been declared between an invention claimed and a patent granted, and the patentee fails to appear, it is error to refuse to grant the patent applied for because of failure to furnish unequivocal proof of the priority of the invention, where the applicant furnishes the best proof under the circumstances, his principal witness having died pending the hearing	452
Where an alien falsely represents himself as a citizen, the patent issued to him is invalid	613
The oath of citizenship and other duties required by Act July 4, 1836, § 6, are conditions precedent to the authority to issue a patent	613
Inadvertence in granting a patent while a caveat is pending does not authorize the granting of a patent to the other party unless he shows priority of invention	1145

	Page
One who exhibits his invention of an improved lock to three lock makers, though he does not put it to any practical use, gives such a knowledge of it to the public as a complete invention as will deprive another person of his right as first patentor	1195
Prior public use or sale.
Act 1839, § 7, providing that a patent shall be invalid where sales were made more than two years before application therefor, does not refer to sales made by persons claiming prior inventions	163
Manufacture for two years before application for patent, by person other than the patentee, avoids the patent	10381227
Application and issue.
Failure of a patentee to mention in his specification an indispensable addition renders his title bad	140
Where a new party comes in on rehearing, he comes in subject to the testimony as to priority of invention previously taken	205
Whether a patent is old or the specification indefinite, or whether the original and renewed patent are not for the same invention, are for the jury	235
A suit to limit a patent or to declare that it does not extend to certain cases, and pro tanto to have it adjudged void, can be maintained only by the attorney general on behalf of the United States	345
The commissioner cannot confirm a patent obtained by fraud	613
A new, original patent cannot be issued eight years after the invention has been in public use	613
Failure to prosecute an application for two years and eight months after it had been rejected is not an abandonment of the application	917
Where evidence as to priority of issuance is conflicting, its weight must govern	949
The proper rule is to construe the claims of the patent in connection with the descriptive parts of the article, and with reference to what is seen to be the real invention	1195
Appeal from commissioner's decisions.
A decision of the commissioner denying a patent to either party on interference is appealable	205
On appeal from the decision of the commissioner of patents the court will not re fuse his action in intimating that a patent was an apposite reference, without stating grounds to support his possession	424
The rule requiring a commissioner of patents to set forth the grounds of his decision fully in writing must be strictly followed	452
The decision of the commissioner as to the existence of ground of reissue is conclusive	655
Reissue: Disclaimer.

	Page
The commissioner may allow the original specification to be amended in the reissue	49
Where an original patentee is dead, his executor may make a surrender and obtain a reissue	49
Where one paragraph in a reissue leads to a construction which would make the reissue void, explanation of its meaning may be sought in a succeeding one	49
New features or devices neither described nor indicated in the original specification should not be embodied in the new description	49
On an application for reissue, the patentee need not claim all things claimed in his original patent	235
The patentee in a reissue patent need not claim all that was claimed in the original patent	603
It is lawful to reissue a patent with claims to combinations of fewer elements than were contained in the combination of the claim of the original patent	655
Extension: Renewal.
Where the claim of the renewed patent was not for distinct improvements, but for additional parts of the same improvement, the same thing was patented in both patents	235
A renewal is for the benefit of the inventor, and an interest in it before the renewal must be specially assigned	258
A conveyance of an original patent, and “any further patent which he shall or may at any time hereafter procure for any improvements,” conveys an interest in so much of a future extension as may be necessary for the use of the improvements	524
A contract to convey a local interest in a patent “to the utmost extent as to duration that he may be entitled to” transfers an equity in the same interest in an extension of the patent	524
Semle, a sale of an “invention” does not necessarily carry inchoate right of inventor to exclusive privileges under extension of patent	1097
Inchoate right of inventor to exclusive privilege under extension of patent is subject of sale	1097
Extension of patents by the commissioner is conclusive as to all facts which he is required to find in order to grant the extension	1097
A patentee who establishes his title under the original letters patent is entitled to a temporary injunction under an extension of such letters patent without a further trial of his right	1097
Assignment.
Where a patent has, by the death of the patentee, devolved on his executor, and has been assigned by him, the assignee may take out the reissue in his own name	56

	Page
Record in patent office of assignment is notice to purchasers	258
Assignment need not be recorded in the patent office as between the parties or as against strangers	258
An ordinary assignment will not convey to assignee an interest in a renewed patent	258
An assignment of all inventions “for the manufacture of composition brush backs and handles” does not include an invention for hand mirrors, the handles and backs of which are made in the same manner as the brush, though applications for patents on both articles were pending at time of assignment	917
Licenses.
An agreement by an inventor, who was employed in defendant's factory, to make for defendant a certain number of machines, for which the inventor afterwards obtained a patent, at a certain price, using defendant's implements and materials therefor, raises a presumption of a license to defendant to make and use the invention	389
There is no principle of equity which requires the owner of a patent to give notice to a purchaser of a licensee's right, in order to enable him to restrict such purchaser to terms of the license	426
A license under a patent need not be recorded	426
One tenant in common of patent may give valid license to manufacture under the patent	1097
Infringement-What constitutes.
Where a patent is for a combination of several known parts, it is not an infringement to use any of them where the combination is not similar	195
The making or selling of a patented machine is infringement	195
Where a party avails himself of the former invention without such variation as constitutes discovery, there is an infringement	195
Where the patentee did not devise the various parts, but the whole combination, it is not infringement to use a part of the combination	248
The business of a manufacturer does not fall within the preventive scope of the patent laws, but only injuries to the right of the patentee	345
Where a patentee assigned to plaintiff all his interest in a patented machine except the right to manufacture said machine in a certain city, and plaintiff afterwards granted a license to one C to use one of the machines within a certain portion of such city, and C sold the machine to defendant, who removed it to a portion of the city outside the district described in the license, there is an infringement of the patent	4261228
A person cannot used a patented device by constructing it in an imperfect manner	603
Any improvements made on a patentel articie do not entitle the maker to use the part patented	603

	Page
A patent is not infringed by a machine which attains the result by machinery of a radically different character	884
Use of patented invention as one of the elements of another combination is an infringement	1038
Infringement-Procedure.
In an action for infringement, the objection that another is interested with plaintiff must be taken by plea in abatement	76
To show violation of patent, declaration need only aver that defendant has constructed, used, and sold to others the things patented	258
One who holds the original right patented, and also an improvement, must assert his entire right in an action for infringement	258
A junior patentee cannot, by making the elder patentee a defendant, compel him to assert his right as against him	345
A patentee may sue any one of several alleged infringers, and omit the others, in his discretion	345
The assignee of an exclusive right to use, but not to make, the thing patented within a specified territory, may sue an infringer in his own name	426
Construction of a patent, like any other written or printed instrument, is for the court	987
—Decree.
Where infringement is admitted, if the patent is valid, interlocutory decree should be entered for complainant, and the cause sent to a master to ascertain damages	49
—Accounting: Damages.
Under Act July 8, 1870, complainant may recover, in addition to the profits of the respondent, damages sustained	49
Actual damages sustained, directly resulting from the infringement, can be recovered	195
Plaintiff can recover the profits realized by the wrongdoer from the infringement	195
On accounting for infringement, defendant must account for the entire profits realized	616
—Injunction.
The owner of a useful invention has the right to sell it to all who will purchase, subject only to a restraint from some party having a conflicting patent; and he obtains under patent laws only the power to restrain another from unlawfully using or selling his invention	345
An injunction will be granted where complainant has been long in the enjoyment of his rights, and there was no doubt as to the infringement	526

Boiler and pipe coverings Letters patent No 55,598, granted June 19, 1866 to John Aslicroff, for “covering a steam boiler pipe or the heater with felt or other nonconducting material.” is valid	410
Buckles Patent May 26, 1863, is void for want of novelty	521
Bustle. The invention of Matthew Chambers for a framework for a skirt or bustle was not anticipated by the patent of Alexander Douglass, No 17,082, nor by the English patent of Ozman No 20,513 of 1856	424
Elastic packing Patent No 3,579, granted August 3, 1869, for “improvement in the manufacture of elastic packing,” includes only soft vulcanized rubber, and not hard rubber	965
Flouring machine The third claim in letters patent of February 27, 1840, for an improvement on a machine for separating flour from bran, is bad for uncertainty, and the fourth claim is bad as one to the legal result	139
Gas burners First claim in patent granted June 14, 1870, for improvement in gas burners, includes combination in patent granted July 26, 1870, to a prior inventor	1087
Hand mirrors Claim of patent granted July 27, 1869, for an “improved hand mirror,” covers a mirror having two wires running from the body into the handle and concealed by cement, of which the handle and back are composed	917
Letters patent granted July 27, 1869, for an “improved hand mirror,” are valid	917
Levels. The invention of Thomas A Chandler for a level (patent No 17,023) possesses patentable novelty, and is prior to the invention for which the patent No 7,263 was granted to William G. Ladd, and to the invention for which Samuel Reed applied for a patent	452
Locks and latches Claims of reissued patent granted to Charles A Miller, January 27, 1863, for improvement in locks and latches, so construed as to relieve the objection that they claim results or effects	1195
Looms The second claim of reissue No 5,150, held not void for want of novelty	188
The first and third claims of reissue No 5,150 held infringed	188
Reissue No 5,150 held infringed	191
Nut making machine Patent No 13,118 is entitled to priority over patent No 8,427	205
Printing presses Patent No 98,087 is valid	617
Pump filters. Reissue of letters patent No 5,804 are valid as to the first claim	655
The second claim of reissue No 5,804 is void	655
Seed planter Patent No 12,231 held not infringement	248
Slides for extension tables Claim of reissue letters No 40,317 examined and limited, and certain claims therein held not to show patentable invention	214
Vulcanized rubber Reissued patent No 3,531 did not embrace the invention of Charles Goodyear for the manufacture of vulcanized India rubber	49

	Page
The description under letters patent No 11,608 as a process for working over vulcanized rubber is in substance the same as the description in the reissue No 3,531	49
PAYMENT.
A payment in bank notes issued without authority of the bank is not valid where the party paying knew that fact at the time	272
“Lawful money” of any state is equivalent to federal money	1149
PILOTS.
Pilot who takes charge of, and tows into port, an abandoned ship, at request of vessel which had been towing her, is entitled to greater compensation than the usual pilot fee	427
An abandoned bark, towed into New York, is not liable for the fees of a pilot who does not board her, nor control her navigation	481
PLEADING AT LAW.
Where the legal effect of an instrument would be the same whether the words constituting the variance be inserted or not, the variance is immaterial	18
A plea in an action on a bill of exchange alleged to have been, given in payment of freight on property transported by plaintiff is insufficient where it alleges a failure of consideration by reason of the careless and tortious manner of transporting the goods, whereby defendant suffered damages in excess of the amount of the bills, but does not allege any nonperformance or tort in reference to the shipment	3591229
A plea is demurrable where its structure is that of a plea in bar, but which avers by way of set-off a claim for damages for improper performance by plaintiff of the contract out of which plaintiff's cause of action arose	359
Defects reachable only by special demurrer at common law will be disregarded as special demurrers are abolished	450
A slight variation in describing a written instrument is fatal	908
Where a default has been opened the pleadings may be amended on the new trial	925
Plaintiff will not be permitted to amend after jury is sworn, if the justice of the case be against him	973
Objection that contract sued on was with defendant and another as partners can only be raised by plea in abatement	1029
Venue is necessary to every traversable fact, and, where one is laid in the count, all matters following refer to it	1149
Venue in the margin of pleading is sufficient where none is laid in the body of the declaration	1149
Want of venue is reachable only by special demurrer	1149
If one of two partners be sued on a partnership demand, he must plead the matter in abatement, and set out the names of the partners	1183

PLEADING IN ADMIRALTY.
An objection that another suit for the same cause of action is pending must be taken by special plea, in the nature of a plea in abatement, known in admiralty practice as a “declinatory exception”	374
In an action on an indemnifying bond, declaration must show that plaintiff has been damnified, and a general averment of loss is not sufficient	1178
On dismissal of a libel with leave to amend, it is improper to file a new libel setting out a valid cause of action, but adding a second cause, which was substantially a repetition of the libel which had been dismissed	702
There is no technical rule of variance in admiralty causes	1015
A special replication by the libelant under oath is not admissible, unless it be demanded by respondent, or ordered by the court	1188
The answer to a libel should be sworn to, but the libelant is not bound to swear to the libel	1188

PLEADING IN EQUITY.
Applications to amend an answer are in the discretion of the court	280
A defendant who answers generally as to a matter of which he has no particular knowledge may file a supplemental answer after he has acquired particular knowledge	280
A bill by a railroad company, against a large number of persons, to determine the estate claimed by them in land over which the railroad was constructed, is not multifarious because it avers that defendants claim separate and distinct parcels, all of them being alike interested in the defeat of plaintiff's claim of prior right under a grant from the government	364
Matter in abatement must be set up by plea	483
An allegation in an answer, however insufficient, if responsive, is not impertinent	483
Exceptions to an answer for impertinence will be allowed where the matter is immaterial, or stated at undue length	483
Leave to amend a bill for adding new parties defendant after replication was filed will be denied where plaintiff could have made the amendment before replication	1053

PLEDGE.
Where a bank pledged notes to secure a loan, and, as they fell due, substituted others in their place, the pledge of the substituted notes is valid	262
It is doubtful, in Louisiana, whether indorsement as well as delivery is essential to the pledge of negotiable instruments	262
Where the giving of notice of the sale of a pledge has been rendered impossible by the act of the pledgor, neither the pledgee nor its agent in the sale of the collateral was liable for conversion	750

POST OFFICE.

	Page
Constitutional provision for establishment of post roads means such roads as are laid out by the authority of the state	1044
Act of congress making all railroads post roads means only such as have charters from several states	1044
PRACTICE AT LAW.
A plaintiff who, on a rule to show his cause of action, files a positive affidavit, will not be required to submit to examination under oath at court, where there is no ground for suspicion that the debt was not due	436
PRACTICE IN ADMIRALTY.
A claim for damages for the breaking up of a voyage is not a claim for seamen's wages, and libelant must file security for costs	94
Where a seaman libeled a vessel, and obtained a decree by default, it will be set aside, where claimant shows that libelant had contracted personally with the master, who was navigating the vessel on a lay	97
On appeal to the circuit court, either party can take new evidence	149
The right of a surety in a stipulation to be paid out of the proceeds of the boat, which has been sold under his execution, is subordinate to the claims of those who have established liens thereon	164
A claimant of a boat libeled for salvage, on giving a stipulation for her release, takes her subject to pre-existing liabilities	164
Right of libelant to summary judgment against surviving stipulator for value of vessel is not affected by the death of the other stipulator, or by the fact that libelant had not exhausted his remedy against the claimant of the vessel	386
A suit in admiralty will not be dismissed for neglect to prosecute, where it was placed on the calendar and noticed immediately after issue joined, hut was not called for trial, by reason of the accidental absence of witnesses	426
Proceedings in rem and in personam cannot be blended in one libel	719
A decree against a stipulator, after his death, is void	829
Proceeding in rem in a case of admiralty and maritime jurisdiction is not a suit at common law, and does not require jury trial	9301230
The record in a court of vice admiralty of the condemnation of the vessel is not evidence per se, but the seal of the court or the handwriting of the judge or clerk must be proved: and the certificate of the American consul is not sufficient to authenticate it	291
Allegations in libel not admitted or denied are not to be taken as true, but must be proved	949
The question as to which marshal first seized a vessel in waters over which both districts had jurisdiction should be raised by a petition by the marshal, and not on a plea to the jurisdiction by a party in whose favor the marshal held process	692

Whether custody of a vessel by a sheriff under a writ alleged to be void is such as to prevent a court of admiralty from acquiring jurisdiction should not be determined on motion	692
Where the report of the commissioner was not excepted to, it was not necessary that the minutes of his testimony should be brought up	792
Where a libelant unites a demand for contract wages unpaid with a claim for a short allowance, and obtains a decree for the wages, he will only obtain costs on that demand, and is liable for costs on the other branch of the litigation	619
PRACTICE IN CIVIL CASES.
A notice at the trial to produce a letter will not be enforced unless it is in the possession of the party or his counsel	468
PRACTICE IN EQUITY.
A motion to dissolve an injunction granted by state court of removal will not be considered without leave first asked and obtained	158
The statute of Nevada providing that an "action" may be brought by any person in possession against any person who claims an interest or estate therein adverse to him, for the purpose of determining such adverse claim, dispenses with the necessity of establishing a right at law before suing to determine such adverse claims, as the term "action" in that state includes proceedings both at law and in equity	364
A defendant will not be allowed, as a matter of course, to put in new pleas on the trial	628
In equity, evidence is not admissible as to matters not alleged in bill or answer	680
The testimony may be taken orally in open court	841
Executors against whom decree is rendered are presumed to be equally liable	1112
There is no rule in the circuit court forbidding a report to be considered at the term to which it is made	1112
A decree against administrators for money in their hands unadministered is not a final decree, and may therefore be opened to let in the merits which may have been excluded by mistake	1112
PRINCIPAL AND AGENT.
An agent by virtue of a power of attorney cannot acquire title as against his principal	1038
The authority of an agent is not affected by war with the principal's country	1154
PRINCIPAL AND SURETY.
Where R. D. imported goods in his own vessel, consigned to E. D. who gave bonds for the duties, the invoice showing the goods to be the property of R. D. the sureties of R. D. cannot recover the amount paid by them from R. D.	628
PRIZE.
Vessel and cargo condemned as enemy property, and for an attempt to violate the blockade	44

	Page
A district court cannot proceed against a captor into whose hands the proceeds of the capture have never arrived	175
A captor who has failed to enforce a decree of a superior court reversing the decree of a court of admiralty cannot claim as damages losses sustained by depreciation of the funds in which the proceeds of the capture were invested	175
Jurisdiction of the court is ousted in case of capture on the high seas, by a privateer lawfully commissioned, of the property of an enemy to the sovereign issuing the commission, though the capture was originally made by a proscribed privateer	278
Though the question of prize or no prize belongs exclusively to the courts of the captor, a neutral will restore a prize wrongfully taken by one of the belligerents in violation of the rights of the neutral	390
Captures under a commission to cruise are valid, if war existed at the time of the capture, though the commission was granted in time of peace	390
A vessel fitted out in a loyal state to cruise against the United States, and seized on the instance side of the court, is not a prize entitling the officers and crew of the United States man of war aiding in the seizure to a share of the proceeds	471
Neither were they entitled to such share under the act of August 5, 1861, as for a vessel fitted out for acts of piracy	471
Vessel and cargo condemned for a violation of a blockade	514
Co-operation in a blockade does not constitute the blockading vessels joint captors	550
The transfer of an enemy vessel by an enemy to a neutral in an enemy port during the war is void	573
Neutral vessel with knowledge of a blockade has no right to proceed to a blockaded port to inquire as to its continuance	573
Where the owner of a vessel and her master are aware of a blockade when the vessel sails, the vessel has no right to approach the blockaded port to inquire as to its continuance	578
After the condemnation of a vessel and cargo, but before entry of the decree, a sale of the same will not be ordered, where it does not appear that they were perishable	578
If a vessel, after sailing with intent to break a blockade, abandons such purpose, and changes her destination, the original offense is condoned	712
The act of sailing for a blockaded port with knowledge of the blockade, and an intention to violate it, is an attempt which will authorize the capture and condemnation of the vessel	712
PUBLIC LANDS.
An actual settlement and survey is necessary to constitute an appropriation of land under a military warrant	174

	Page
Act May 23, 1844, known as the "Town-Site Law," was not enforced in Oregon before the passage of Act July 14, 1854	483
Until the complete performance of the conditions subsequent to a settlement in the donation act, the estate granted is liable to revert to the donation by the failure to perform such conditions	483
The patent to the settler under the donation act is conclusive evidence of a performance of such conditions in a court of law, and primary in equity	483
An entry within the Virginia military district of Ohio before extinguishment of the Indiana title is void	6341231

QUI TAM AND PENAL ACTIONS.

Qui tam action to recover penalty under Virginia act of December 21, 1792, "regulating the inspection of flour and bread," will lie without making the United States a plaintiff	1083

RAILROAD COMPANIES.

Under Act March 3, 1875, providing for the use of any canon by more than one railroad, two railroads granted a right of way through a canon can construct their lines irrespective of the width of way granted	23
Where a railroad company exhibits a copy of the profile of its line through the Grande Canon, approved by the secretary of the interior, it will be considered as made in accordance with Act March 3, 1875	23
A certificate of an incorporation designating its place of business, and setting forth that it would be carried on in certain counties named, is a substantial compliance with Act Colo 1876	23
A surveying and staking of a proposed line of road by the Denver & Rio Grande Railway Company did not amount to an appropriation of the right of way granted to that company by Act June 8, 1872, nor was the building of the road from Pueblo to Canon City	23
The certificate of incorporation filed by the Denver & Rio Grande Railway Company under Rev Sts Colo. c. 18, was not such an appropriation of the right of way through the Grande Canon as contemplated by Act June 8, 1872	23
Amendment of April 15, 1858, to Minnesota state constitution, authorizing the issuance of bonds by the state in aid of railroads, and the nature of the remedies by foreclosure and forfeiture, considered	417
Minnesota state railroad aid bonds issued under the amendment of the state constitution of April 15, 1858, are valid	417
Where a new road can at small expense cross an old one at a different level, equity will require it to be done, apportioning the additional expense between the roads	590
Where the state of Iowa accepted the grant of certain railroad lands from the United States, and gave them to a particular company, subject to the right to make necessary rules and regulations, it was an express reservation of the power to regulate the tolls	594

	Page
The state can regulate the tolls of a railroad company organized under the general law of the state	594
A city has no power, without express authority, to subscribe to the stock of a railroad	635
Where a city, without authority, subscribed for stock and issued its bonds, it was not estopped by the act of its officers, or any matter appearing on the face of its bonds, to deny their validity	635
A mortgage of the entire property of a railroad, including property subsequently acquired, gives an equitable lien to the bondholders on after-acquired property	1172

RECORDS.

A citizen of the United States has not an unlimited right to inspect all the records belonging to the federal courts, but only the books containing docket or minute entries of judgments or decrees	686
A petition for leave to inspect "books containing docket and minute entries of judgments and decrees" of district and circuit courts is sufficient on general demurrer	686

REFERENCE.

Where the amount of a claim which defendant had against certain real estate was referred to a master to determine, he was not bound by the statement in defendant's answer	609

REMOVAL OF CAUSES.

A suit in a state court cannot be removed under the act of 1866 as to some of the parties, where one as to whom it is not removed is a necessary party	32
A cause cannot be removed unless the controversy is so completely one between residents or citizens of different states that its termination will settle the whole suit	147
A portion of a case cannot be removed because the party interested in such portion is a citizen of another state from that of plaintiff	147
Where, after removal, plaintiff pleads anew setting up the removal, he cannot ask to remand the cause on the ground that it was not within the act	158
Act March 2, 1833, § 3, providing for the removal of prosecution in a state court against an officer of the United States, is not applicable to criminal indictments	171
To entitle defendants to remove a case brought by a firm under Act March 2, 1807, it must appear that all the plaintiffs were citizens of another state	255

	Page
A petition as an occupying claimant after judgment for plaintiff in ejectment under the statutes of Iowa is not removable, being a mere dependence on the original suit	477
A bill to reform a policy of insurance is an original suit, though an action at law was pending on the policy	516
A pro confesso taken by complainant at return term will not prevent a removal under the act of 1875	584
A bill by a citizen of Tennessee to cancel certain policies and a loan against an insurance company of Missouri is removable, though the trustee was a citizen of the same state with complainant	584
Where the real controversy is between a city and one of its citizens, a citizen of another state interested cannot remove the cause	588
A controversy is to be determined by the pleadings in the state court before the filing of the petition	606
To entitle to removal under Act March 3, 1875, § 2, cl. 1, there must be the controversy between citizens of different states, and all the parties on one side must unite in the petition, and be of different citizenship from the parties on the other side	606
The mere formal part is not to be considered in determining the right of removal	606
A citizen of the District of Columbia is not a citizen of a state, within the removal laws	717
A proceeding under an Ohio statute to compel an assignee for the benefit of creditors to allow a claim is a suit at law, within the removal act	8061232
An attachment has the same effect after the cause is removed to a federal court as if it had remained in the state court	942
Proper time for entering in circuit court “copies of the proper papers” is on the first day of the next session after petition for removal	1066
Removal is effected by entering copies of proper papers in the federal court	1066
No action of the state court can affect the right to remove a cause to a federal court.	1066
Jurisdiction to determine whether a cause is removable and is properly removed is in the federal court	1125
Mere filing of petition and bond in the state court by a party entitled to remove the cause to a federal court is sufficient to effect the removal	1125
Right of removal is not lost where transcript of record is not filed within time prescribed by law	1125
Cause must be removed to federal court held at place where action was brought in the state court or place convenient	1125

	Page
Where a cause has been removed from a state to a federal court, a party is not entitled to any costs except such as are taxable under Rev. St. §§ 823, 824. though such items would have been taxable in his favor in the state court	831
REPLEVIN.
Act Md. 1785, c. 34, forbidding replevin of troods restricted for tax is not applicable to the corporation of the city of Washington	171
RIPARIAN RIGHTS.
The owner of lots in Washington lying on Rock creek is entitled to the compensation awarded for the condemnation of the water privileges in front of them	573
SALE.
Where a tailor has dealt with the customer on credit, he should notify the latter of his change to cash dealings before making up the goods	213
Where teas were sold to be selected by A., and were afterwards changed, the buyer can rescind, and refuse to accept them	544
On a contract to deliver teas, to be selected by A., if A. accepts an inferior quality there is an end to the warranty	544
To rescind a sale, the property must be returned	662
Contract for future delivery of goods which seller does not own, and has no means of obtaining, is not void for illegality	955
A contract to manufacture certain articles without specifying any time, means a reasonable time	1151, 1152
SALVAGE.
Right to salvage compensation.
The master of a vessel which, in the course of the voyage, falls in with a wreck, is authorized by the general customs and usages of the sea to employ his own vessel and crew in saving it	369
Service rendered in saving property in danger of being lost on the high seas, or when wrecked and stranded on the shore, is a salvage service	369
A passenger who advised the master to attempt the service, and was active in performing it, is entitled to an increased share	509
Passengers who refused to assist when solicited are not entitled to a share	509
Ferryboats in peril on the Ohio river are subjects of salvage	528
A salvor is not entided to compensntion for services rendered the vessel wrecked pursuant to an agreement between him and the master	669
Though a settlement by arbitration may be void, the salvors are entitled to reasonable salvage	669
Unloading a ship which is on fire, attended with danger to life, is a salvage service, not simply stevedore services	702
Salvage will not be allowed unless goods are actually saved	949

	Page
Quaere, whether person taking forcible possession of ship exposed to danger, against will of commander, can claim salvage	949
Burden of proving that salvage agreement between master and salvors is contrary to equity and justice is on those attacking it	1075
That the risk was slight, and the duration of the salvage service brief, affects the value of the same, but cannot bar the claim	1193
Nothing but a contract to pay a given sum for the services to be rendered, or a binding engagement to pay at all events, whether successful or unsuccessful, will operate as a bar to a meritorious salvage claim	1193
Allowance to seamen.
Compensation to seamen for services in a shipwreck must be paid out of the proceeds of the property saved	228
The amount of wages seamen receive at the time of the shipwreck is a safe criterion in fixing the quantity of salvage they are to receive	228
In case of shipwreck, where seamen cannot earn wages, but perform meritorious services, they are entitled to salvage	228
All the crew of a vessel, who were ready and willing to engage in salvage service rendered by the vessel to a wreck in the course of the voyage, are entitled to a share of the salvage awarded, though they may not have gone on board of the wreck	369
Where crew rescue vessel, their wages from last port of delivery will be included in salvage	994
Forfeiture or reduction of salvage.
Seamen of a vessel which rescues a wreck during a voyage do not forfeit their claim for a share of the salvage by misconduct during such voyage, if they are guilty of no misconduct while engaged in the salvage	369
Those in possession are estopped from claiming as salvors if they requested the aid of those who save the property	528
An agreement by a salvor to pay the master 10 per cent, of the compensation may be lawfully performed, but in awarding a salvage it can be reduced by that amount	669
Amount.
Where a canal boat cast adrift from a tow was picked up in Long Island Sound, a salvage of 50 per cent, was proper	44
A salvor will not be allowed the net proceeds as compensation, though his expenditures exceeded them, unless the owner abandons the property	84
In cases of salvage of derelict, the proceeds remaining after payment of all costs and disbursements will be equally divided between the salvors and the owners	322
In cases of derelict the rule is to award a moiety	509

	Page
For saving the cargo of a wrecked vessel, consisting of a locomotive and a quantity of railroad iron, court allowed one-half of the net value of the property saved	686
Where the crew of a captured vessel rescue her from the prize master, they will be allowed one-fourth of the whole value of vessel and cargo	9941233
Allowance of $6,000 was made for lightening cargo worth $20,000 from steamer cast ashore in December	1075
Apportionment.
Where, under a contract, a salvage of 50 per cent, was awarded to a schooner which came to the relief of the wrecked vessel, the court will not give the whole compensation to the master and owners, and leave the seamen to look to the other moiety for their reward	228
Vessel cast on shore should bear part of salvage by landing cargo, thereby lightening the vessel and enabling her to go to a place of safety	1075
Remedies for recovery.
One of the crew of a vessel, for whose services salvage was awarded by arbitrators, and paid to the master without distribution, may maintain a libel in personam against the master for a share	369
A master of a wrecked vessel cannot submit the question of compensation for salvage to arbitration, where he acts in bad faith	669
Failure of libelants to refer their claim for salvage, as agreed, held , under the circumstances of the case, to be no bar to an action therefor	1193
Costs.
There should be but one libel in ordinary salvage cases, and costs paid but for one	509
SCHOOLS AND SCHOOL DISTRICTS.
School district No 1, of the county of Multnomah, is not the successor of the "trustees of the schoolhouse of Portland."	487
The city of Portland is not the successor "of the trustees of the school and meeting house of Portland"	487
SEAMEN.
Where a seaman was injured in the home port so severely that he could not be removed to the ship hospital, the shipowners were liable for his expenses	9
A custom of having a watch on vessels in foreign ports at the expense of the sailors will not be sanctioned without strong proof	527
Where seamen were imprisoned in a foreign jail by order of the American consul, and there was no evidence of bad faith, the men must pay the charges of the imprisonment and the expense of substitutes, but not the charges of the consul	581
Where a ship has full supply of provisions, and the crew is insufficiently furnished, their remedy is an action for damages	619

	Page
Where a steamship ships a crew under articles executed before a notary public, it is a violation of Act June 7, 1872, and the ship incurs the penalty provided therein	773
Officers and seamen must remain by ship and unload the cargo, in default of which they are liable to the owner	1091
The contract of shipment.
A seaman on a lake vessel, having shipped under a verbal agreement, may leave the vessel at any time	761
Act July 20, 1790, requiring a written contract on the shipment of seamen, is not repealed by Act June 7, 1872	773
Contract is suspended, as to claims for wages, by capture	994
Legal obligations of seamen do not continue after capture of vessel	994
An agreement for a share in the proceeds of a whaling voyage does not create a partnership in profits of the voyage, but is in the nature of a seaman's wages	1188
Conduct of master or mate in respect to seamen
A master can, in cases of necessity, correct a disobedient seaman by reasonable corporal punishment	68
To entitle a seaman to damages for an assault by the master he must show that the punishment was excessive	68
Wages—Right to.
Where a seaman dies before the voyage is completed, his representatives are entitled to his wages up to the time of his death	59
Where a seaman leaves a vessel under permission of the mate, it is a discharge, and, if in a foreign port, he is entitled to three months' extra wages	98
A seaman who, unknown to the master, but with permission of the mate, leaves the vessel, is not guilty of desertion	98
Where libellant was to receive 1/42 part of the proceeds of the voyage, he receives his full share if he receives pay in whatever currency makes up the proceeds	217
A seaman who is sent ashore to get articles belonging to the ship, and does not return before the ship sails, but afterwards goes to the destination of the ship, and takes the articles to the vessel and demands his wages, is not a deserter, so as to incur a forfeiture of wages under Act Aug 18, 1856, §25 :	284
One who shipped as a seaman, and, after the season of navigation, remained on board the ship during the winter, keeping the ship, can recover as a seaman only for his services during the season of navigation	434
A seaman who shipped as an able man is not entitled to be treated at the expense of the ship, nor to wages, while he is disabled by disease brought on by his own vices	449

	Page
A seaman who was engaged as a cook on a foreign voyage, and who, performed extra services as stevedore, may recover for the extra services in admiralty	508
Double wages are allowed only where the provisions required by law are not supplies shipped	619
Where a seaman on a lake vessel ships under a verbal agreement, and draws wages promised, he cannot recover a larger amount under act July 20, 1840	761
In an action by a father for wages of his son as seaman on a whaling voyage under articles made during the minority of the son with the consent of the father, the measure of damages is the son's proportion of the oil taken during the minority	1201
Seamen who are persistently ill treated by their officers are not deserters after refusal of a demand for a discharge	1203
Consuls have authority to discharge seamen with three months& extra pay, where they have been cruelly treated, though they have not deserted	1203
Where a seaman is discharged with three months& extra pay (5 Stat 396), one-third of such pay goes to the United States	1203
—Remedies for recovery.
The owners of a vessel are liable for wages if the vessel prove insufficient to pay them	59
Where a foreign vessel is in the custody of the marshal on a claim made by an American citizen, the court may take jurisdiction of an intervening libel by one of the seamen, though his contract was made and performed in a foreign country, and all the parties are subjects thereof	434
A lien for seamen's wages existing under the general maritime law will be enforced by the courts of the United States, though the lien arose in Canada, where there are no admiralty courts	434
Where charterer of vessel is also owner of cargo, the freight subject to the seamen's lien for wages, is the fair value of the transportation of the cargo	9941234
Seamen of a British vessel, whose articles provided that they shall not be entitled to wages until the completion of the voyage, cannot sue in the united States courts for wages, unless it appears that they had been prevented from performing their contract, or seeking redress in the British courts, by wrongful act of the master	1142
Wages—Deduction; extinguishment, etc.
A slave entered as a seaman, and escaped from the vessel, will not occasion a deduction from the wages of the rest by contribution	59
There is no forfeiture of a seaman's wages under Act July 20, 1790, § 5, where neither his name nor the fact that he was absent without leave is entered in the log book	284
Desertion to forfeit wages must be ammo non revertendi	1091

	Page
By maritime law, desertion during voyage forfeits all wages antecedently due	1091
Act 1790, c 56, creates forfeiture of wages on 48 hours' of absence without leave, if proper entry had been made in log book	1091
If a deserting seaman offers to return to duty and make amends in a reasonable time, the master must receive him back, unless previous conduct would justify his discharge	1091
Desertion will not forfeit wages, either by maritime law or by the statute, unless it occurs before the end of the voyage, which is when the ship arrives at her port of destination, and is moored in the accustomed place	1091
Desertion forfeits wages in all cases except where there are mitigating circumstances	1188
Act Cong 1790, declaring any unauthorized absence of a seaman from a ship 48 hours to be a desertion, applies to all cases, though the seaman has been prevented from returning by the sailing of the ship	1188
Desertion by the general maritime law is the unauthorized absence from the ship with the intention not to return	1188
Where a minor, with the consent of his father, shipped as a seaman, but deserted during the voyage after he had become of age, such desertion does not forfeit his father's right to wages earned during minority	1200
SET-OFF AND COUNTERCLAIM.
A plea setting up a claim for damages against plaintiff, which shows that the alleged damage was for wrongs to property in which defendant was interested with others, is no response to a declaration setting out a breach of defendant's individual promise	359
An agreement between a member of a firm and his individual creditor that the claim should be set off against such creditors liability to the firm is not available to the firm where it was not assented to by the other partners until after such creditor had made an assignment for the benefit of creditors, though before bankruptcy	928
One of two joint makers of a promissory note cannot set off against him a note given by the payee to him individually	1132
SHERIFFS AND CONSTABLES.
Where a conflict arises between the sheriff and a United States marshal as to the right to the custody of property, the sheriff may apply either to the state court to be protected, or to the federal court to order its officers to withdraw	692
A sheriff is responsible for his deputy's act	1104
SHIPPING.
See, also, "Maritime Liens."
Where a shipper of goods received a rebate from the purchaser for damage in the suit by the shipper against the vessel for such damage, he must be charged with the rebate	76

	Page
Semble, that a shipper has a right, by the maritime law, to examine goods after they are unlivered, in order to ascertain whether they are damaged or not, before he makes himself liable for freight	374
Where a portion of the cargo is lost by a danger of navigation, the carrier is entitled to freight on the cargo delivered	663
By the general maritime law, material men have a remedy for supplies and materials against the vessel, the owner, and the master	680
Under the amended twelfth rule of admiralty of May 6, 1872, one who furnishes supplies, etc., to a vessel, domestic or foreign, may proceed in rem against the vessel, or in personam against her master or owner	689
The amended twelfth rule in admiralty of May 6, 1872, relating to the remedy where supplies are furnished a ship, does not apply to suits brought or supplies furnished before that date	689
One who purchases a vessel sold under process of state courts with knowledge that a proceeding in admiralty was pending against the vessel is not entitled to an order requiring the marshal to deliver possession of the vessel	692
A steamship in charge of a pilot is not liable for injury to a seine in such part of the channel that the steamship would have been in danger of grounding if she had attempted to go around it	760
Public regulations-Title to vessel.
The mere statement of the record owner of a vessel, who had previously sworn that he was the owner, is not sufficient to show that he is not interested in her	266
The register of a vessel is the only document which need be on board in time of universal peace, in compliance with warranty of national character	291
The general owner of a ship is deemed the owner for the voyage, notwithstanding a charter party, if he retains the possession and control of the navigation of the ship during the voyage	374
In a libel for the forfeiture of a vessel, confessions of the consignee are not admissible to charge the offense on the owner or captain	548
A forfeiture cannot be enforced against a vessel except on pleading and proof that the acts charged were done by the master willfully	548
The statement of title of a vessel in the customhouse documents is not conclusive on third parties	609
St Mass 1847, c 234, § 2, requiring vessels in Boston harbor to rig in jib booms in certain cases, is valid	1095
The master.
Where the master is separated from the ship by death or other casualty, the mate succeeds to the command	150
A majority of shipowners may dismiss the master, though a co-owner, at any time without cause	624

	Page
Where one of the owners of a vessel gave his note for supplies furnished by libellant, and on a settlement charged the master, who was the other owner, with his portion thereof, the master was not thereby relieved from liability to libellant	6801235
Master who is authorized to draw on a certain house for a certain sum, and instructed to “extend his drawing,” should he not have funds to purchase a cargo, only authorizes him to draw on the house named	1025
Master may bind vessel and cargo for loan to pay liens of salvors, and prevent delay and expense in their enforcement	1075
Cargo-Loss or injury.
The owners of a ship must show that missing portions of a cargo were discharged, and placed on that part of the wharf selected for the deposit of the consignee's goods	58
Loss by rats is not an act of God or “a danger of the sea	76
Where owners of goods claim that they were damaged on the voyage by rats, the burden is on them to show such fact	82
The publication of the cargo list of a steamer was not such a notice to the consignee as to discharge the shipowner from liability under a bill of lading, the goods having been unloaded, and sold for storage	233
A vessel is liable in rem for damages caused to goods of one shipper by those of another	579
A vessel is liable for carrying goods on deck, though the bill of lading exempts him from liability for the perils of the sea	663
Limiting liability.
Statutes of the United States limiting the liability of shipowners does not limit the liability of a foreign shipowner for a collision between an American and a foreign vessel on the high seas	676
It is not necessary to jurisdiction of a petition to limit the liability under Act March 3, 1851, that the court should have possession of the vessel or of the proceeds, and the pendency of suits against the vessel and of stipulations of value is no reason why the proceeding should not be taken	782
Agreement of consortium.
Persons joining or becoming interested in a vessel during an agreement of consortium enter on the relation, and assume the risk of profit or loss	268
Change of owners, masters, or crew of one vessel without notice to the other party cannot affect an agreement of consortium	268
Though the interest of a vessel in a consortium may be small, this will never be presumed, but the general principle governs, that the interest of the vessel controls	268
In the absence of stipulation in an agreement of consortium, it can be terminated only by voluntary dissolution and notice	268

	Page
An agreement of consortium is for and on account of the vessels, though made by the masters	268
Burden of proving that an agreement of consortium is limited is on the party alleging it	268
Agreement of consortium by masters of vessels will be considered general unless limited by special understanding when made	268
SLAVERY.
A forfeiture of a vessel is not incurred by its building for the purpose of the slave trade, but only for the fitting out or causing her to sail for such purpose	90
An information against a vessel charging "that she was built, fitted, equipped, loaded, or otherwise prepared or caused to sail" is bad for uncertainty	90
Emancipation by will does not need the assent of executor	477
SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE.
A bond for a deed, on consideration that the obligors, "the trustees of the schools of Portland, and their successors in office," shall perform certain things, is a mere gratuitous promise until performed, and will not be enforced	487
