

Case No. 3,671a.
[Betts, Scr. Bk. 105.]

IN RE DAY.

District Court, S. D. New York.<sup>1</sup>

DISCHARGE OF BANKRUPT—WITNESSES.

[A creditor of a voluntary bankrupt is a competent witness for other creditors opposing the bankrupt's discharge.]

[In bankruptcy. Petition for the discharge of Anthony Day, a bankrupt]

It being considered by THE COURT that a creditor of a bankrupt whose application is voluntary is a competent witness to support objections filed by other creditors to the bankrupt's petition for a discharge, it is ordered that the exception to the decision of the commissioner overruling objections to the admissibility of such proof be disallowed.
