

Case No. 8,680.
[15 Alb. Law J. 293.]

IN RE MCCARTHY.

District Court, D. Massachusetts.

Feb. 8, 1877.

BANKRUPTCY—TRADESMAN'S BOOKS—ACCOUNTS—BUSINESS—PERSONAL.

A bankrupt kept a true account of his business, but not of his personal expenses. Held, all that a tradesman is bound to do is to keep the accounts, of his business as a tradesman; and, if his books show how much he has drawn out for personal expenses, it is sufficient
