

MEMORANDUM.

{1 Cranch, C. C. 114.}¹

Circuit Court, District of Columbia.

March Term, 1803.

COURTS—SESSIONS OF—CRIMINAL TRIALS.

On the first day of the adjourned session, Charles Lee moved for a special session, for the trial of criminal causes, and cited the acts of congress September 24, 1789 (Judiciary Act; 1 Stat. 73); February 13, 1801, § 8 (2 Stat. 89); and February 27, 1801, § 3 (2 Stat. 103).

THE COURT ordered a special session, to be holden on Wednesday next, for the trial of criminals, and a venire for a grand jury, &c.

The adjourned term from November, and the special court ordered for the trial of criminals, were held at the same time.

¹ [Reported by Hon. William Cranch, Chief Judge.]

This volume of American Law was transcribed for use on the Internet

through a contribution from Google. 