

MOHR v. COTZHAUSEN.

{15 Alb. Law J. 392.}

Circuit Court, E. D. Wisconsin.

April 4, 1877.

JURISDICTION OF COURT OF SPECIAL AUTHORITY—WHERE ESTABLISHED.

Where the jurisdiction of a court of special authority appears upon the record, its action and decision can no more be collaterally inquired into than can the action and decision of a court that has authority over all questions and controversies.

This volume of American Law was transcribed for use on the Internet

through a contribution from Google. 