Oops, sorry! This is par for my course this week, I'm afraid. Thank goodness it's Friday! The document is now attached.

I should add that I do not have any special audio/visual requirements.

Thanks for your note,
Emily

Dear Emily:

Thanks but one slight problem...no attachment!!

Hey it's Friday and everyone wants to beat the ugly weather predicted for today...

Hi JP and Kerri,

With my apologies for the delay, here are my presentation title/abstract and short bio. They are attached in a single document. If you need anything further, or if the abstract is not quite what you had in mind, please just let me know.

Thank you,
Emily

Dear Emily,

I understand from the SES conference planning committee chairman that we are missing your bio and the abstract for your presentation. We are in the process of preparing the program and will include this detail in the hopes of enticing folks to attend the conference. It is important that we receive your information soon. Can you please provide to us no later than June 1?

Please send to JP Emard and Kerri Conn (jpemard@atis.org and kconn@atis.org) as soon as possible.

Thanks much!

Sonya

---sent on behalf of Jean-Paul Emard--

Dear SES Speakers and Moderators:

As you know, the 61st Annual SES Conference is quickly approaching and the planning stages are well underway! We anticipate an outstanding conference and want to remind you that the Conference Planning Committee is requesting the following information ASAP:

- * electronic copy of the title and abstract of your presentation (100 words)
- * brief biography (no more than 150 words)
- * special audio visual requirements (laptop computer and LCD projector already will be provided)

Please send the information to me (jpemard@atis.org with a copy to kconn@atis.org) as soon as possible.

If you have any questions regarding the above information, or the conference in general please do not hesitate to contact me directly.

I look forward to seeing you all in New Orleans in August!

Best regards,
Jean-Paul Emard
