

From: Biedermann, <Cynthia@DGS>
To: "Nearman, Michael@DGS" <Michael.Nearman@dgs.ca.gov>
Date: 10/21/2015 10:11:58 AM
Subject: IAPMO- Codes online and publication schedule

Mike,

Alma from IAPMO called to make us aware of a new program that they are initiating for viewing our codes online. Apparently they are currently being hacked, which is to say that viewers/users have discovered a way to save the code without paying for it. The new program will produce the code online in a two page magazine format. She assures us that it will look just like the code book pages but will hopefully prevent viewers from stealing it in the future.

Separately, Alma would like to go over the publication schedule and when they might be able to start constructing the 2016 codes. We discussed the projected schedule and she is reviewing the existing express terms for Parts 4 & 5 on the website in order to gain a sense of the number of CA amendments anticipated.

I told her that we would get back to her early next week to coordinate a conference call and to provide feedback concerning the new viewing format.

C

CYNTHIA BIEDERMANN | ASSOCIATE GOVERNMENTAL PROGRAM ANALYST | CALIFORNIA BUILDING
STANDARDS COMMISSION | 916.263.1330

