Hi Brad -

Your DMCA takedown was forwarded to my attention, you should have a reply waiting for you at the US Post Office. Your tracking number is 9405511899560801097322. Your takedown was identical to the one a month before, so I hope you won't be disappointed but our answer is also identical.

I must confess to production difficulties. The red ink on the aluminum foil ran, so I don't think your potato looks as good as it did when I packed it. I'll use wax paper next time. There is a picture available online however so you can see what it looked like before packing.

You've probably seen already from my twitter stream, but in case you haven't, we have some of the code also available on the document cloud:

As always, we'd love to talk about this if your client is ready to talk.

Best regards,

Carl
